ELECTION MAKES NEW POLITICAL MAP OF U.S.A.

LOCAL D.O.C. WILL BECOME STAFF CHIEF

Appointment Is Announced for Brigadier-General A. G. L. McNaughton, Commanding Officer of District

CHANGE EXPECTED EARLY NEXT YEAR

Is Slated to Succeed Major-General Thacker as Chief of Staff, Minister of National Defence Announces

THE retirement of Major-General Thacker, chief of the General Staff, Department of National Defence, after a period of thirty-five years' service in the permanent force, was announced yesterday evening by Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence at Ottawa. General Thacker will be succeeded as chief of the general staff by Brigadier-General Andrew George Latta McNaughton, who has been the officer commanding this district since last May.

GEN. McNAUGHTON'S CAREER
General McNaughton, who was appointed D.O.C. Victoria, on May 1 of this year, and whose transfer will be regretted by all ranks at Work Point Barracks, was born in Moosemin, Sask., on February 25, 1887. In an interview with The Colonist last night, he said very positively that he did not know who his successor in this city would be. He expressed great regret at leaving Victoria, of which city his only other experience had been comprehended in a short appointment in the year 1919.

He was educated at the Moosemin Public School, the B.C.S. Lennoxville, McGill University, both as under-graduate and post-graduate, the Royal Staff College, Camberley, England, and the Imperial Defence College, London, England. In 1914 he married Miss Weir, of Montreal, and is now the father of five children. Previous to the war his military service included a commission in the Canadian Militia general list as provisional lieutenant in May, 1909. From May, 1909, to July of the same year, he was attached to the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, obtaining his lieutenant's artillery certificate, all of which culminated in his qualifying for a commission in the Imperial Army on May 2, 1910.

The News

Local and Provincial—Fifteen-ton generator for Jordan River offers problem in transportation. Amid scenes of great enthusiasm the E. W. Beatty championship cup for the best Highland regimental piper in Canada, was presented this evening to Pipe-Major Sydney Featherstone, of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (Princess Louise Own) by J. M. R. Fairbairn. The contest had been held at the recent Highland Scottish festival at Banff.

Anonymous Donor Sends Solarium Splendid Gift

THE Queen Alexandra Solarium is in receipt of a gift of $5,000, sent by an anonymous donor through a New York firm. This donation was the subject of a special resolution at the meeting of the executive committee of the Solarium, held on Monday, when it was decided to endow a bed in perpetuity with the fund, the bed to be named or otherwise designated, as the donor may direct.

FIFTEEN-TON GENERATOR IS UPHILL PULL

Problems Presented in Getting Equipment Into New Power House at Jordan River

TRANSFORMERS ARRIVE TODAY

A problem for the engineering staff of the B.C. Electric Railway at Jordan River is presented by the removal of the heavy generator required for the new power house at the main diversion, which has to be raised from sea level at the power house to the altitude of the forebay reservoir, about 1,300 feet elevation on a 10 per cent grade by which the road, which is two miles long, rises from sea level to the reservoir.

This generator weighs about fifteen tons and is too wide for the ordinary truck, so the staff has obtained a specially built contractor's truck, in the form of a special axle so that while the platform will be greater the wheels will run in the traveled way, as the roadway is in the form of such a character as to stand exceptionally heavy traffic.

When the truck, which will be drawn by a cable tractor, hired from the Department of Public Works, reaches the forebay reservoir, the generator will be lowered by the light railway running to the main diversion dam, for which it is destined. It will be the heaviest piece.

Labrador Viewed As Means to Cash

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Sir John Bennett, former member of the Newfoundland Government and a native of St. John's, Nfld., has arrived in London to take up the duties of the Newfoundland high commissioner. He succeeds Captain Vincent Gordon, V.C., who died recently from the effects of war wounds. Newfoundland may not be able to develop the newly acquired wealth of Labrador, but it is a marked, owing to her comparatively small population and the magnitude of the territory which the Privy Council decided to place under Newfoundland's jurisdiction. The land has yet to be surveyed, and a policy decided on. In any event the acquisition of the vast territory has put Newfoundland in a much stronger position financially, he said.

COURT PREVENTS SOVIET AUCTION

Valuable Property Put Up for Sale in Berlin Is Claimed by Its Former Owners

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—The question of Russia's right to sell personal property confiscated by the Soviet Government, was raised in the German courts today, as the auction of art works and treasures from the Leningrad museum and palaces ended. The total receipts for the two days of the sale were approximately $750,000.

Today's transactions were restricted by the German courts, which granted interim injunctions to fourteen Russian emigres, who claimed certain objects for sale as their personal property. The injunctions affected 100 pieces, including valuable furniture, Gobelin tapestries, pictures, and the prized object of all, the famous painting of "Rembrandt's Son," by Nicolas M.

The court acted on the consideration that "the property in question is claimed to have been forcibly taken from the original owner, while no proof is furnished that the Soviet Government acquired proprietary rights thereto in accordance with expropriation laws in force at the time."

MINISTER'S WIFE HERE—Mrs. Shelly, wife of Hon. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, is spending several days in the city. She will remain over until the week-end.

GROUP OF BIG CAPITALISTS ENTER FIELD

Mond Interests Stated to Have Purchased Telkwa Collieries on C.N.R. Line to Prince Rupert

COAL PRODUCTION IS NOT OBJECTIVE

Plans Understood to Contemplate Manufacture of Oil and Other By-Products—Mineral Suitable

THE Mond interests, headed by Lord Melchett, the former Sir Alfred Mond, are entering the British Columbia coal industry with the purchase of the Telkwa collieries, east of Smithers, according to semi-official and apparently reliable information received at the Parliament Buildings. The Telkwa collieries, which for years have been operated to supply fuel to Prince Rupert and other cities on the C.N.R. line, will be used by the Mond interests for the production of valuable by-products, including oil, it is reported.

The property is said to have been sold for $75,000 by its owners, who reside in Telkwa. Plans of the British syndicate, which is reported to be adding the colliery to its already huge investments in Canada, have not been divulged yet, but they are understood to be apart altogether from the use of coal as a fuel. The Telkwa collieries were said to have been selected by the purchasers because of peculiar properties which make them suitable for the manufacture of many valuable by-products useful in industry.

PEACE UPHELD BY TWO RACES

SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN SPEAKS ON BASIS OF PEACE IN EUROPE

Like Welfare of Canada, It Rests Upon Good Relations Between French and English

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—At a special conference this afternoon, the University of Toronto conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Sir Austen Chamberlain, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, in the British Government, and the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Paul Claudet, French ambassador to the United States.

Introduced as the "reconciler of Europe," Sir Austen spoke briefly of foreign affairs. He said he believed that the peace of Europe, no less than the welfare of Canada, rested on a close friendship and understanding between the British and French races.

"No League of Nations, no Locarno agreement, no pact of peace can make war impossible," he said, "but each one makes war more perilous for the aggressor, and thus affords to affront the moral judgment of the world."

Something had been done, he thought, during the four years in which he had been connected with foreign affairs to insure lasting peace.

Lower Rates For British Are Planned

MANCHESTER, Eng., Nov. 7.—The Guardian says today that an important announcement is expected within two weeks in connection with "energetic steps" by the Government to promote the success of migration of unemployed. The Guardian forecasts a reduction in ordinary ocean passage to $50 and reduction also in the "assisted passage" for families and for young women.

PIONEER OF SAANICH DIES AT LAKE HILL

Miss Wilhelmina Ann Blair McKenzie, Daughter of Kenneth McKenzie, Passes at Old Homestead

RESIDED HERE FOR 75 YEARS

With the passing of Miss Wilhelmina Ann Blair McKenzie at the family residence yesterday, a link is severed with the colonial history of Saanich Island. She was the daughter, the last surviving member of the family, of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie, of Craigflower, who played a large part in the development of the land owning interests of the Hudson's Bay Company on this Island.

Member of an old established Lothian family, Mr. McKenzie was selected by Governor Codville, of the Hudson's Bay Company, to take charge of the farms operated by the company on Southern Vancouver Island, and he reached here in 1853, Wilhelmina being then a baby about a year old. The family soon afterwards took up residence at Craigflower, and the present homestead and the old school across the bridge were built by Mr. McKenzie. In a year or two he began to look around for a suitable place to reside, and this he located at Lake Hill, under the shadow of Christmas Hill, where he erected buildings of which the McKenzies' home was the most notable. The family afterwards left Craigflower and moved to Lake Hill, where Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie resided until their death. The daughters continued to reside in the home, with a small acreage around it, until in the lapse of time Miss Wilhelmina was the last remaining member of the generation having attained the age of seventy-six.

Around it has developed a suburban district until it is almost the only farm in that part of Saanich, the family names being perpetuated in "Kenneth" and "McKenzie" Streets.

The surviving members of the family are one niece, Mrs. E. M. Craft, of Oakland, California, and two nephews, Mr. Kenneth Watson, of San Francisco, and Mr. Alexander B. Watson, of Victoria.

The remains are deposited at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock, the service to be conducted at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in the family vault at Ross Bay Cemetery.

TO UNIFY CONTROL OF LONDON TRAFFIC

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Several women members of the London County Council, including Isabel MacDonald, daughter of the Labor leader, sat through the night along with their male colleagues, while the council debated the complicated problem of traffic control.

After a sitting of fifteen hours it was agreed to approve the special traffic committee's recommendation, that legislation be promoted at the present session of Parliament for the unification of the council's street takings and of the London County Council's street takings. Unified control of all London traffic was thus brought a step nearer.

VANCOUVER AIRPORT—In regard to the location of Vancouver's permanent aerodrome is still in abeyance. The respective merits of Sea Island and the site on the North Shore, east of Second Narrows, was discussed by the Inter-Municipal Air Board today, when a committee was appointed to submit a further report.

TO ENTHRONE EMPEROR OF JAPAN REALM

Great Ceremony Draws Several Hundred Thousand People From All Parts of Japanese Islands

RULER IS LATEST OF ANCIENT LINE

Hirohito Is One Hundred and Twenty-Fourth of His House to Succeed to Throne

KYOTO, Japan, Nov. 7.—Tonight this ancient city gathers to itself again the prestige and glory that it held during the thousand years and more that it was the Queen City of Japan, the capital of the Emperors. Once again Kyoto is the centre of empire, while Tokyo is the centre of the world, the upstart rival, whether political power shifted with the restoration in 1868, is for the next two weeks only a shell of a capital.

Emperor Hirohito, with his Empress, the princes and princesses of the blood imperial, all the high officials of the court and the imperial household, hundreds of masters of ceremonies, rituals, aides de camp and bodyguard officers.

124th EMPEROR

This occasion is the enthronement of Hirohito, 124th Emperor of Japan, the climactic ceremony of observing the former practice of which will take place in the Shinsen-den, or throne hall of the imperial palace here, on the afternoon of November 10.

Along with dignitaries, the common people are flocking to the scores of thousands. It is conservatively estimated that the population of Kyoto is 1,000,000.

Time Set for Armistice Day Service Clashes

The decision of the Armistice Period Committee to hold its service at the Cenotaph in the morning on Sunday instead of observing the former practice of an afternoon gathering, has been questioned by Rev. Dr. Sippel, of Metropolitan Church, to officiate at the service.

Dr. Sippel maintains that the churches, in holding special Armistice services in the morning on Sunday, are interfering with the service of the National Armistice Day Committee, which has laid out a suggested order of service for the day.

The National Armistice Day Committee, which has laid out a suggested order of service for the day, is understood to be a number of years. It is understood that the company plans enlargement of its establishment.

The firm of Moskan & Todd, which has erected the Waldron Apartments on Burdett Avenue, and is completing a $40,000 apartment block on Yates Street, announced yesterday that the firm was planning to erect two more apartments in a central portion of the city.

RECORD BROKEN IN WASHINGTON

State Given Unprecedented Vote for Mr. Hoover—Whole Party Ticket Elected

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—Borne forward to victory on a wave of unprecedented popularity, Herbert Hoover received the largest vote ever recorded a presidential candidate by the electors of the State of Washington. Unofficial returns tabulated here tonight in 2,550 precincts out of 2,561 in the state give Hoover a popular vote of 283,729. This exceeds the vote of 220,224 given Calvin Coolidge in 1924, and the still larger vote of 223,137 cast for Warren G. Harding in 1920. The Coolidge and Harding figures represented the complete official returns for the state.

Governor Alfred E. Smith ran a poor second to his Republican opponent, polling 123,536 votes in the precincts reported. Hoover took the lead from the start and increased his majority as returns were tabulated.

The Republican state ticket swept into office without a setback, while the Legislature were largely successful. In the only hotly-contested race for a state elective office, Governor R. H. Hartley, Republican incumbent, scored a decisive victory over his Democratic opponent, Bullitt.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

LONDON, Nov. 7.—After a forceful explanation by Lord Cuthbertson, Acting Foreign Secretary, of Britain's attitude and aims in negotiating the Anglo-French agreement on naval armament limitations, a resolution censuring the Government on this account was withdrawn in the House of Lords tonight. It had been moved by Lord Thomson, Labour Party, who declared the agreement had set back the cause of disarmament.

BROUGHTON ST. BLOCK SOLD TO JAMESON, LTD.

Sale to Local Motor Company Is Announced by Mr. John Bowker, Owner of Property

The four-story brick and concrete garage building at 740 Broughton Street has been sold to Jameson Motors, Limited, it is announced by Mr. John Bowker, owner of the property. This marks the fifth important real estate deal put through in the last few weeks.

The sale of the Jewell Block, on the corner of Yates and Douglas Streets, to the Metropolitan Chain Stores, of New York, is the most important of the five deals, while the sale of the old Royal Hotel building, on the corner of Fort and Broad Streets, to R. F. Castle & Company, for $100,000, is the second largest deal.

This sale was put through by Pemberton & Son, who also handled the sale of the Mahon Building for the owners to the General Warehouse, of which Mr. Fred Spencer is the head.

The other important deal consummated was the sale of the building on the southwest corner of Bastion and Government Streets to Miller, Court & Company.

The building acquired by the Jameson Motors, Limited, has been occupied by that concern for a number of years. It is understood that the company plans enlargement of its establishment.

The firm of Moskan & Todd, which has erected the Waldron Apartments on Burdett Avenue, and is completing a $40,000 apartment block on Yates Street, announced yesterday that the firm was planning to erect two more apartments in a central portion of the city.

Molten Lava Devastating Rich Lands

CATANIA, Sicily, Nov. 7.—Eyewitnesses of the molten lava flowing out of Mount Etna describe the spectacle as so awful it can be compared only with devastating features of the World War. The lava is consuming like a hungry monster the most fertile and most intensively cultivated land in Sicily.

Great clouds of steam arise when the lava reaches the roofs of the distilleries, which produce citric acid and other chemicals. People continue to flee the advancing fire with household belongings thrown on any makeshift vehicle and with barnyard animals straggling along.

Largest Vessel Ever Put on Upper Yukon Approaches Completion at White Horse

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—The largest vessel ever built on the Upper Yukon, a river freighter with a hull measuring 210 feet over all, with a beam of 42 feet and a draught of 18 inches, has been completed by the White Horse & Yukon Company at White Horse, B.C. The vessel, which will make a total of nine in the service, the new ship replacing a smaller one which will be held in reserve.

The hull will not be worked on further until early spring, just in time to complete the superstructure and install the engines and wheels before the opening of navigation.

Political Upheaval Bursts Dykes Firm for Fifty Years

Republican Party Gains Full Control of Senate and Increases Margin in House of Representatives—Hoover Has Popular Majority of Five Million, With More to Come

By D. Field Britton, Associated Press Staff

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Closing tabulations of Tuesday's election have continued to reinforce the tremendous popular vote by which Herbert Hoover, and Charles Curtis have amassed majorities in states having 444 electoral units and left Governor Smith and Joe T. Robinson leading in others. The late election returns have served only to emphasize the immensity of the Republican sweep that embraced the entire West and most of the East, and also extended into four traditionally Democratic states of the South—Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Texas. With less than a scattered quarter of the nation's precincts remaining uncounted, Hoover majorities have piled up in forty states. Smith held the lead in eight others, six of them in the South and two in the East—Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Only Alabama, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana in Dixie remain definitely under the Democratic banner.

SIR AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN RELATES BRITISH POLITICAL HISTORY

Has Never Regretted Refusal to Desert Mr. Lloyd George When Coalition Ended

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, today declined to be drawn into a discussion of Canadian or Imperial affairs.

"None of my business," he replied, when asked his views of Canada's renunciation of titles.

Sir Austen said he hoped the Church of England would emerge all right from its present troubles over the revised prayer book.

"They have a difficult way to tread but it would be nobody's advantage to see the old church dismantled, much less disestablished," he added.

Sir Austen said he had never regretted his refusal to desert Premier Lloyd George for the Bonar Law Cabinet.

"I always felt that if that coalition should ever have been brought to an end, it should have been four years earlier—when peace was signed," he said. "Mr. Lloyd George had always been perfectly loyal to me. And I stuck to him. I saw no reason for deserting him. And my colleagues who went out, Lord Balfour and Lord Birkenhead, saw no ground, either, for falling away from Mr. Lloyd George. We had had no difference with him, and to have forsaken him would have, we all thought, been an act of personal disloyalty."

BIG TELESCOPE WILL ADVANCE THE FRONTIER

Two-Hundred-Inch Instrument Is Great in Possibilities, Declares Princeton Professor

REMYOT STARS TO BE STUDIED

(The following article has been written by Prof. Henry Norris Russell, Princeton, in response to a request from The New York Times to outline the possibilities in the new telescope in extending present astronomical knowledge.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—To forecast the possibilities which will be opened up to science by the construction of the great telescope which is now assured, is in some ways an easy task, and in others difficult indeed. What it should do in the extension of the many lines of investigation which are already in progress with smaller instruments, or at least projected, we can estimate closely; but whether entirely new fields may be opened up no one can yet be sure. It may be said with confidence, however, that the work which is already in progress on the 200-inch telescope is amply sufficient to justify even the huge sum which it will cost.

A full list of the researches in which it could be employed would be too long, and in part too technical to detail here, but many of them are of great and general interest. First, perhaps among these, comes the sounding of the remoter depths of space. Twenty years ago astronomers hardly dared to speak of distances exceeding a few thousand light years. Today the 100-inch telescope has "resolved" a few of the nearest of the spiral nebulae into separate stars and shown that they are true "island universes;" and we have good reason to set their distance down as about a million light years. Once in possession of this knowledge, which a smaller telescope could hardly have revealed, we are able to utilize the less detailed photographs which can be obtained of fainter and remoter objects. There is good reason to believe that a cluster of faint nebulae which has been studied recently lies at the enormous distance of 150,000,000 light years. Other groups of nebulae, almost, if not quite as remote, have been observed at Mount Wilson and at Harvard.

WILL ADVANCE FRONTIER
The 200-inch reflector, gathering four times as much light as any existing instrument, should advance the frontier of knowledge of the universe. Making due allowance for favorable conditions of site and atmosphere, it is reasonable to hope that nebulae may be discovered at a distance of a thousand million light years, and what is more, that this almost inconceivable distance may actually be measured. The stars in resolving the nearer nebulae into stars and in studying their properties more closely, though less spectacular, did far to be of even greater importance.

Passing to the individual stars, we may predict that stars 10,000,000 light years distant will be detectable with the new instrument. But unless these stars form part of a distant nebula, we have at present no hope of picking them out among the millions of nearer stars which crowd the skies. The value of the great telescope, then, will be not in the attainment of distance, but in the physical study of the stars.

MORE LIGHT NEEDED
Our knowledge of what stars are, depends mainly upon the analysis of their light, with the spectroscopic as our main ally. "More light" is always the cry of the investigator. With the increased grasp upon to be available, stars too faint to be studied at present may be reached. For example, certain variable stars such as Chi Cygni, are at times visible to the naked eye, and again drop to a five-thousandth part of their former brightness, and return in a year or so. We believe that this extraordinary condition arises in temperature. Even when brightest, such stars are cooler than any others which we know. How much cooler do they become at the minimum? The answer, foreshadowed by observations already made with the 100-inch telescope, may be revealed in full by its greater neighbor. But the brightest stars, as well as the faintest, will be on the new observing list. The spectrum of such a star as Arcturus, an Antares companion, contains thousands of lines, each conveying its own special information. With spectroscopes of ordinary power, groups of these close-packed lines appear too often to be blended into one, and the finer significance of their message is obscured.

STAR LIGHT WEAK
The sun sends us plenty of light; and, in this case, we can put on almost all the spectroscopic power we wish and study the spectrum line by line. But the light of even the brightest stars is so weak that it is only by concentrating it with very large telescope that we can get enough to study in detail. Recent work at Mount Wilson, with a powerful spectroscopic fed by the 100-inch reflector, has given us spectra of a dozen or so of the brightest stars on a scale which enables us to escape most, though not all, of the former difficulties. The first study of these photographs has given a new method for finding the temperature of the stars, has shown that the atmospheres of the "giant" stars, such as Betelgeuse, are far more extensive than the sun's, and has enabled us to distinguish between lines absorbed in the relatively dense lower regions of the star's atmosphere and in the exceedingly tenuous upper layers. Only the brightest stars, however.

can be observed with this instrument, even if the exposures last the whole night through. With the new telescope fainter stars may be reached, and the number which are accessible increased probably sevenfold, so that stars of almost every kind will be available for analysis by the new methods.

In another closely related field, the great light grasp of the new instrument will be of equal value. By the aid of electrical measuring devices—thermocouples of extreme delicacy—it is possible to measure the heat which the stars send us. The Lowell and Mount Wilson Observatories have been very successful in such observations, but much remains to be done, and the increased power of the new telescope will again do yeoman service. Measures of heat may be made upon the planets, too, and in this way the long vexed question of the temperature of Mars has been settled. It is now known that warm Summer's day on the planet reaches almost the stage which we call "temperate" on earth. It has been possible to measure the temperatures of definite regions of the planet.

WEATHER MAP POSSIBLE
With the larger image given by the great telescope it should be possible to make separate measures of the temperatures of even the smaller areas upon the planet and to have a good night's work end with a weather map of Mars, at least as far as the temperature goes. What the observations of even the smaller areas upon the planet may follow upon this we cannot yet say.

One thing has been common to all the observations so far mentioned. They are all made by auxiliary apparatus, photographic, spectroscopic, and so on. Will the great telescope ever be used for looking at the heavens? The place of direct visual observation is much less important in astronomy than it once was, but there may be an opportunity for it with the 200-inch. The greater the diameter of the telescope, the finer is the detail which, under the best conditions, can be seen with it. In such work the refracting telescope has so far had the advantage over the reflector, for, unless temperature conditions are exceptionally good, there may be some infinitesimal fraction of a degree hotter than another. This distorts, by a few millionths

In the same year he was transferred from the general list of the Canadian Militia to the 3rd (Montreal) Field Battery, obtaining his captain's artillery certificate, which was followed by his promotion to the rank of captain in the Spring of 1911.

In June of the year 1913, he was promoted to the rank of major and commanded the 3rd (Montreal) Field Battery, which won first place for efficiency in the all-Canadian contest, until the outbreak of hostilities.

WENT OVERSEAS WITH C.F.A.
When war broke out he organized the 4th Battery C.F.A. and proceeded to England with the First Canadian Division. In February, 1915, he was wounded at the Second Battle of Ypres. On March 11, 1916, he received the rank of lieutenant-colonel and was appointed counter-battery staff officer to the Canadian Corps in March of 1918. In October of the same year he was appointed general officer commanding Canadian Corps Heavy Artillery. He has been three times mentioned in dispatches and has also been awarded the D.S.O. and also the C.M.G.

Since the war he has been a member of the committee for the reorganization of the Canadian Military Forces, in which connection he came to Victoria in the year 1919. In the year 1920 he was given the direction of military training and became deputy chief of the General Staff in January of the year 1923. He has many university degrees and is an associate member of scientific associations in Canada, England and New York.

MAJOR-GENERAL THACKER

Major-General Herbert Cyril Thacker, the retiring chief of staff, was born at Poona, India, in the year 1870. In December of 1899 Captain Thacker, as he then was, was appointed adjutant to the Brigade Division of Artillery and served with distinction in the South African War. He was selected to accompany the Japanese Army as military attaché during the Russo-Japanese War of 1904 and, shortly after the outbreak of the Great War in 1914, was appointed to command the Royal Canadian Artillery, being promoted a month later to the command of the Divisional Artillery of the Second Canadian Division.

Grand Orange Lodge To Meet in Montreal

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—The 1929 convention of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America will be held in Montreal, it was announced today, following a meeting of executive officers. The meeting was held in camera. The sessions will open in Montreal on June 26, 1929. It also was announced that the Canadian delegates would be sent to a meeting of the Orange order to be held in Glasgow next July. The delegates will sail from Montreal on June 29.

APPEALS FOR YOUTH

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Bishop J. C. Farthing, of Montreal, addressing a meeting of the Anglican Young People's Association here, stressed the difficulty of the younger generation to find its bearings at the present time of political, social, moral and spiritual evolution, and expressed regret that older people sometimes were too censorious and fault-finding with the young people. The church's great purpose, he said, was to try to help young men and women, for if their Christianity was weakened they were apt to be carried away into paths that led to danger and disaster. The bishop pleaded for more sympathy with the young of today, and he urged the young people to get out among those whom they associated and influence their lives. Do not be sanctimonious, he advised, "but be brave."

"Do you think Smith ever lies about the fish he catches?" "No, I don't, but I think he lies about the fish he doesn't catch."

COUNSEL SAYS GAMING RAIDS "TIPPED OFF"

Lawyer for Seventeen Chinese Advances Unique Plea in Common Gaming House Case

FAN TAN ALLEY FIGURES IN NEWS

That a number of Chinese gaming houses had been operating continuously for several weeks previous to a raid by police officers, and that on the night of the said raid all these places, with one exception, were closed up, and that the police department had been informed of this state of affairs, was the assertion advanced by Mr. M. B. Jackson, K.C., counsel for seventeen Chinese taken in a raid on premises at No. 2 Fan Tan Alley, in addressing Magistrate George Jay in the city police court yesterday.

The Chinese pleaded not guilty to charges of being inmates of a common gaming house. His Honor, at the conclusion of the hearing of the case, reserved his decision in the case of sixteen of the accused, and released Wong Chew, ruling that there was no evidence that he had been in the gaming house. In his cross examination of Chief of Police John Fry, Mr. Jackson asked the chief if he knew that at least half a dozen gaming places were in operation continuously up until the night of the raid?

"Not continuously," the chief replied. Mr. Jackson asked the chief if he knew that the police department or the commission had been so informed. The chief replied he did not.

Mr. Jackson declared the Chinese had not been arrested in a gaming house but on a public thoroughfare, Fan Tan Alley. The evidence had shown, he said, that the imminence of the police raid was known to operators of gaming houses in the alley. Although gambling paraphernalia was found on the premises, it was not likely that the men were gambling, knowing that a police raid would take place. He said he did not criticize the police officers in their evidence, nor did he blame the situation upon the chief, but more on the condition of things. City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison termed as "nonsense" the suggestion of places being protected by warnings of raids. These places had been raided at different times, as the police records would show. He believed the court could hardly give credence to the idea that knowledge of the raid had been given in advance. If so, the paraphernalia seized by the police would not have been found in No. 2 Fan Tan Alley.

Millionaire (to detective)—"Have you caught the man who stole my wife's jewelry yet?" Detective—"No, we haven't caught him. But we've got him so scared that he doesn't dare to show himself when we're around."

Motor Truck Adaptation Shown in Fine Pictures

Members of British Columbia Government and Lands Department Officials See Operations of Six-Wheel Truck Depicted on Screen

A very interesting series of lantern views was presented before the members of the local Government and officials of the Lands Department last evening, depicting the operations of the six-wheel motor truck which has been perfected in England under experts of the War Office. The views were presented by Major P. Hennessey, D.S.O., M.C., of the R.C.A.S.C., Work Point Barracks. The views presented on the screen placed in the Members' Committee Room of the Legislature, completed a series of pictures that had been taken in England under actual conditions. The lantern was operated by Sergeant-Major Wylie, R.C.E., and Sergeant-Major Black, R.C.S.E. Unfortunately there was not sufficient time left after the presentation of the pictures to allow of an explanation of the whole situation revealed by the new trucks perfected as a result of the war, and which are now made available for general use.

NO PATENT RIGHTS
The information was given by Major Hennessey that following the perfecting of the new motor vehicle, the War Office has made available for general use all the mechanism that forms a part of the new machine. There are no patent rights held in connection with it, but, on the contrary the War Office placed all the improvements that had been effected as a result of the experiments at the disposal of the general manufacturers.

One truck using the six-wheel device has arrived in the city, said Major Hennessey, and was being used by the local firm of Johnson Gravel Company. This one was made by the Leyland Company, and was imported from the Old Country. There are other companies, he explained, that are using the special device, utilizing in connection with it their own engines and other features which are not of special importance.

When the War Office perfected the trucks this privilege of any company using it was given without cost or royalty of any kind. The only restriction put on the manufacture was that in case of war the Government should have the privilege of having the trucks pass to the Government, if required, for purposes of war.

The pictures that were shown last evening revealed in a very graphic way the flexibility of the two rear axles which form the special feature of the device. This is known as the suspension of the two rear axles, or as the army officers describe it as "rear bogey suspension."

GRAPHIC PICTURES
The pictures showed the ordinary army truck with four wheels in all manner of predicaments resultant on the condition of the roads, but which were overcome with no trouble by the new one. The ascent of steep hills with what would be described as practically impassable roads owing to rain, was shown. This was done with little hindrance. In extreme cases a quickly adjusted set of chains which passed around the two rear wheels on either side, made the matter of ascent very easy, evidently the situation resembling the caterpillar effect. Descents were made with ease, and the trucks were shown traveling easily over the country with no roads to aid, but instead with the way impeded by gorse and bushes.

The position of the spare tires, close to the front wheels, served the purpose in the latest design of aiding the carrying of the front of the car out of any deep hole into which the front wheels might drop.

The new machines are not expensive, and have been generally adopted by the War Office for its purposes.

In addition to the truck there is also a three-wheel motorcycle perfected by the War Office on the same principle as the truck and which makes it possible to proceed in many places where the ordinary motorcycle fails.

Major Hennessey was thanked for his presentation of the pictures.

A VICARIOUS SACRIFICE

The nomination of a Conservative candidate to contest the coming Federal by-election in this constituency is a fitting answer to the inspired plea raised by a Vancouver newspaper that the seat should be allowed to go by acclamation to a supporter of the Mackenzie King Administration. However favorable that newspaper (The Province) may be to swelling the Liberal representation of British Columbia at Ottawa it would show a greater sense of sporting dignity if it made the first attempt to use its influence in this direction within its own bailiwick. Its incursion into local politics perhaps has aroused resentment in some quarters though it should be viewed with amusement only, because that incursion never threatened even a momentary advantage to the supporters of Liberalism. The voters of Victoria continue to exercise the belief that they are competent of minding their own business. On their part they do not attempt to dictate what other constituencies in the province should do.

The Province newspaper, of Vancouver, appears to have become infected with the political doctrine enunciated so often by Liberals, by Dr. J. H. King, the Federal Minister of Health, by Dr. J. D. MacLean, the Liberal candidate in Victoria, and by the supporters of the former and of the latter, to the effect that there are some hypothetical advantages to be derived from a party in power, which, when Liberalism in complexion, will only "do things" for a constituency which elects a supporter. If that doctrine were a part of the politics and of the morals of Canada the country would probably be of one political complexion. In bald terms it is a doctrine of graft. It is a suggestion of bribery to secure political advantage. It is a veiled attempt to blackmail voters. The motives behind the suggestion of the Vancouver newspaper are transparent. Its desire is that Victoria should make a vicarious sacrifice for the benefit of the port of Vancouver, and the suggestion was probably inspired through the presence in Vancouver of a Federal Minister who is taking an active part in the attempt to have a supporter of Mr. Mackenzie King elected in this city.

An endeavor to infuse into the people of Victoria political ethics dominated by the suggestion that, "to the victors belong the spoils," is not likely to succeed. Some Liberals may preach such ethics and welcome enthusiastically support for their political nostrums from one of the Vancouver newspapers, but the voters as a whole do not believe they should be regarded as a weathercock for every wind that blows. Fortunately the people of Victoria have a sense of humor and it is that sense that has been applied to the inspired suggestion of the Vancouver newspaper. Our voters remember the past and in the present instance are unlikely to sit idly by while Vancouver steals the goose and gives Victoria the giblets as aims.

POPPY DAY

No appeal for funds reaches the hearts of so many to such an extent as that which will be made next Saturday by the Armistice Period Committee. It is an appeal in which all Canada participates, designed to provide the funds for ameliorating the lot of those who were broken in the Great War. The simple expedient devised for raising funds is the sale of artificial poppies, which, in the history of our race, will remain a perpetual reminder of Flanders Fields. The money thus collected is to supplement the re-establishment efforts of the Government to assist disabled and otherwise handicapped ex-service men or their dependants. Towards the purposes mentioned eighty per cent of the money raised is devoted. Of the remainder ten per cent goes in wages to the disabled men who make the artificial poppies. The remainder is absorbed in the cost of materials and in other expenses incidental to the poppy distribution.

It is a poor heart that does not welcome the opportunity to give on Poppy Day. In effect that anniversary is a part of the Armistice commemoration, and easily the most suitable part that could have been perpetuated. The most enduring monument that can be built to celebrate any important event in history is one which is constructed in the heart of mankind. Poppy Day is a monument of that character, for it is a perpetual reminder of the sacrifice of those who adventured greatly and suffered on the road they traveled. There is a legacy left to the people of this and future generations which must be assumed as a privilege and a duty combined. Poppy Day is one of the means of liquidating the responsibility. It is an appeal that cannot be ignored by anyone who possesses either a sense of gratitude or of patriotism.

PROGRESS IN MOTOR MANUFACTURE

Motor Show Week in Britain has brought the critical faculties of the press of that country into play, and some suggestions are made to improve the vehicles of what has become the most popular form of travel. In the making of motor cars there is a continual striving after improvement. It is not, perhaps, as rapid as many people could wish and there are somewhat outstanding defects yet to be remedied. At the present time engine, transmission, gear box, suspension are undergoing changes. There are improvements being effected in the electrical equipment. What will undoubtedly be improved before long is self-starters which still leave something to be desired and that something is their certain operation in spells of cold weather. It is pointed out, too, that the removal of oil from the "sump" of many cars remains a difficult and dirty operation. Where it is not removed there is decreased efficiency.

One point which it is held should be aimed at is to make the operations which owner-drivers must perform easy, and entailing the minimum of discomfort. There is another improvement, long overdue, namely, to dissipate the smell of gasoline. There is constant improvement in the braking systems and in the springs provided. Unsplinterable glass is being used in many cases in the windshields and there are other improvements too numerous for brief notice. Despite all that has been done Sir Herbert Austin, a well known manufacturer, in commenting on the recent Motor Show Week says, that in general principle the vehicles we have today are the same as we started with, say, forty years ago. The comment he makes is: "They are faster, less noisy, and less costly to run, and in every way more pleasant to use, but they still remain much as they were at the end of the last century—an internal combustion engine under a bonnet in front, driving the rear axle through a clutch change-speed gear-box and steering of the Ackerman type."

The chief changes made have been in the carriage work. Sir Herbert says the petrol-driven vehicle is supreme, but he doubts its continued supremacy. In the future he says there will be more communal traveling on fast and silent running vehicles "many of which will be of the trackless tram type, using electric current from overhead wires and avoiding the unhealthy exhaust fumes that at present vitiate our atmosphere. Those vehicles which need freedom of movement and do not use electric energy will be possible only on the country roads, and will have means for neutralizing the exhaust gases which internal combustion motors create as the propelling medium."

THE HUDSON STRAIT

Navigation of the Hudson Strait is now closed. The harbor of Fort Churchill is frozen. Navigation has remained open for an unusually long period this year, but that does not mean the same conditions will prevail in future years. As a matter of fact there is little more known about the navigability of Hudson Strait today than there was fifty years ago. Generally speaking the Strait is open for from three to four months of the year. It is during that period that the new Hudson Bay Railway is expected to enter to traffic and during that time it will only be able to handle a small percentage of the wheat crop. For the greater portion of year the railway, if it is not closed down, will be operating on an ice-bound port, and it is not quite clear what freight or passengers are supposed to originate in the territory through which it passes. In other words, the Hudson Bay Railway is about the greatest transportation gamble in which a Government ever embarked. On the face of it there is little or no possibility that a remunerative return can be secured on the public funds that are being invested. Every indication is that there will be a dead loss, and a new burden placed on the Canadian National Railway.

AVE:

(To the Atlantic Airman—A Song for the Unreturning)

Where the elements meet in tumult,
Wild sea and wilder sky,
Seeking a path thro' the charless vast
The daring airman fly.

The ghostly icebergs sullen roll,
Fog-veiled by their chilling breath,
As here the pilots of the air
Keep rendezvous with Death.

For lure of the fleece, or Siren song,
Or the Grael's mysterious fire,
Or the light that calls to the souls of men
From her eyes whom their hearts desire.

Comes ever a call to the brave of heart
To dare to their latest breath,
And I—I gather the harvest, sure,
For I am the Reaper, Death.

So thro' fog and hail and tempest
That veil the hungry sea
On eager wing their bravest come
To keep their tryst with me.

Mind on the goal before them,
Weakness unknown, or fear
Winging the long uncharted path,
Undaunted, tho' they hear!

The roaring wind and rain
The thundering of the Valkyrs' steeds,
The Choosers of the slain.

Welcome to old Valhalla!
Seats with the gods on high!
Ye Champions of Peril,
Ye Pilots of the Sky!

Note and Comment
By R. B. D.

British newspapers and periodicals are discussing the slaughter rate upon the highways and asking no authority in particular what shall be done about it. Nobody seems to know what shall be done about it. The discussion of this subject indicates that the British people are just like their children beyond the seas, in the United States as well as in Canada and Australia. They are obsessed of the lust for speed, not because there is any special necessity for their being in a greater hurry than their fathers were before them but because somebody, by some means or other, has gained the prize of a fast motor car and has set the pace for the whole fraternity of motorists.

For a time the British lagged behind in the procession of the death-dealing Occidental juggernaut, but he is catching up. He now kills as many persons per head of the population as Canadians and almost as many as Americans. That is why the newspapers and the periodicals have been taking notes of the proceedings and asking what shall be done about it. Several suggestions have been made for reduction of the death rate, two of them being widening of the highways, originally built for the comparatively slow and sedate horse-vehicle, and the construction of new highways to be reserved exclusively for the passage of motor cars. No newspaper or periodical has suggested fixing a safe and sane rate of speed, in excess of which it would be a criminal offence to drive motor cars. In Great Britain, as in Canada and the United States, a standard of speed has been adopted, with the approval of the authorities, and there seems to be a general assumption that such a standard must be maintained regardless of consequences.

We do not believe that there is any real necessity from an economic or any other point of view for the maintenance of the standard of speed that has been set up. If a British or a Canadian or an American Mussolini were to arise and smash the false standard of speed that has been set up, we do not believe that the consequence would be business stagnation, followed by a financial panic. The currents of trade would flow just as freely as they do at the present time and the average death rate upon the streets and highways would immediately revert back to normal.

Objection might be taken to the arbitrary action of Mussolini upon the ground that such a law could not be enforced. There are supposed to be certain laws governing the rate of speed of motor cars at the present time, and those laws are supposed to be enforced in Victoria. Those laws are not enforced except in spasms. That is not because of any dereliction of duty on the part of the police. The average policeman is not a bird who can be in two or more places at once. The police are doing their duty when opportunity happens to cross their paths.

Take a case that accidentally came under observation on Tuesday morning. About eight o'clock in the morning (too early an hour to expect a policeman to be doing constabulary duty), a youth driving a motor cycle at the rate of somewhere between fifty and sixty miles an hour burned up the highway along Fairfield Road in the neighborhood of the cemetery—that is, he burned up the spots he touched on the road, for his machine was loping along like a demented kangaroo. This mechanical Jehu was followed at a slightly slower rate by another of his own tribe. The speeding twin were crossed in their path by a motor car going almost as fast.

Now the point is that if any of those half-witted car drivers had happened to hit and smash a pedestrian, what would have happened?

Some dreams are like the moon,
They wax and wane,
Glow and fade and break too soon,
Then shine again.

Not so ambition's dream:
However far
His cherished goal may seem,
It glows a star.

A bright and changeless star
Through changeless years,
To guide the toiler far
Through hopes, through fears.

It leads men ever on
To higher things;
Through love and youth be gone,
Its challenge rings.

Its fair beams whiter glow
Than all besides,
When other dear dreams go
This dream abides.

SCHOOL TO CELEBRATE

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—In connection with the proposed celebration in 1929 of the centenary of the founding of Upper Canada College, a strong committee has been appointed to work out the details of a programme that should prove attractive to the Old Boys of this noted Toronto institution. The number of boys numbered about 5,000 and are scattered throughout the world. The celebration will begin on September 12 with a banquet and the following day a tablet commemorative of the occasion will be unveiled. There will be a ball and garden party and an old-timers' cricket match. The financial part of the celebration will require between $12,000 and $15,000, and this sum is expected to be contributed largely by former students.

destrin who was not endowed with the physical agility to plunge out of the way of the destroyer and the killer had been arraigned in court, he almost certainly would have been acquitted upon the plea that the victim had deliberately walked in front of the death-dealing car. A plain pedestrian always strolls out on the road and asks some motor driver to bump him. That is precisely what happens in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. It would not happen under a Mussolini. A dictator would declare that any person who drives a motor car or a motor cycle at a rate exceeding thirty miles an hour is a potential murderer and should either be hanged or beheaded.

The foolishness of preaching has never been more forcibly illustrated than in the cases of offenders against the provisions of the law governing the driving of motor cars to the public danger. Offenders against that law probably do not read the newspapers. If they do they pay no attention to the warnings of the judges or the sermons in the press. They must be a section of that numerous class which reads nothing in the papers that is not sensational, such as murders and executions. If potential murderers in motor cars were sentenced to penal servitude for term of years, that would not impress them particularly if they read about it, but if one of their kind were ordered to be hanged, they would all read about it and "sit up with a jerk and take notice." Those in authority and the law are responsible for the conditions which are universally deplored.

BREEDS AND PRICES OF GOATS

Sir,—A natural Government, as I understand it, is a Government that takes a fatherly care of an industry in the interests of the people and not on behalf of a clique of goat breeders or any other industry. The Scrub Buck Goat Act, alluded to in Mr. Burton's letter, was passed almost as a joke by the House of Commons, and was a piece of legislation which was passed by a very small majority.

I have met with four people this last week who told me they had paid from $4 to $7 for breeding, and had intended giving up their domestic goats supplying milk to the family on account of this heavy cost, with no remedy in sight. Perhaps that is the reason why well-bred goats, milking or dry, are often sold at auction for $1 or $2 each.

By all means let us have the best-bred stock, such as those that have carried away all the prizes at the round of agricultural shows here and in the United States. That is a hobby for the wealthy industrialist, but it is a hobby which is needed in a rough country like Vancouver Island and among its hardy settlers is an animal that does not need to be nurtured like a Jersey cow, but will hold its own with the rough surroundings of the countryside. A "grade" goat we call it.

The cost of raising goats in a city where most of the food has to be bought, and there is not enough to hold an animal on a city lot, may be from $30 to $50. But that is not the measure by which what is called "the poor man's cow," the home-bred domestic nanny is used.

Assuredly as those engaged in the goat industry have enough to do in fighting the prejudice and ignorance of those who know nothing about the value of goats in other parts of the world and are only too ready to treat the whole matter as a joke, it would be a wise policy to make the industry as easy as possible for those who need goats' milk, children and invalids, and not limit the product to a few wealthy citizens. The Government does a good deal in advertising the use of goats. On behalf of the industry let it do something more important and practical, supplying the wants of the industry at the cheapest rate, of which a stud goat in every district at a cheap rate is an absolute essential.

Lord Byng Takes Office as Head of London Police

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Lord Byng of Vimy, commander of the Canadian forces during a period of the war, and former Governor-General of Canada, today took over the duties of chief commissioner of the Metropolitan Police and head of Scotland Yard, succeeding Sir William Horwood, who resigned.

Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs

The district commissioner asks all Scouts and Cubs to attend their own church on Armistice Sunday, wearing uniform and poppy.

ST. MARY'S NORTH
The pack had a good turnout on Friday and did a lot of star work. Cub Instructors John Gornall and Cub Scouts Harness and Sixer Stanley took signaling instruction. A knotting relay, using reef, clove hitch and sheet-bend knots, was run by Sixers David Muir and Brenton Murdoch. Baloo Edwards took ten-terpays work. Games of chess, duster hockey, balloon and animal ball were played. Two akelas from other packs were present, Mr. A. G. Horsfield, who is starting a pack at Brentwood, and Rev. P. G. Walton, from Tofino. At the close of the meeting Akela Walton took his promise and was presented with his badge; he received a very hearty "howl" of welcome from his brother Cubs.

PACK ENTERTAINS
On Saturday the Cubs entertained Akela Lable and the sixers and seconds of St. Paul's pack. Games and ducking for apples, a good bunfied, hunting for nuts and a short display of Cub acting, made the hours pass all too quickly, and after a "grand howl" and flag the party broke up.

ST. MARY'S SOUTH
At the last meeting the Cubs of St. Mary's South Pack entertained Akela Spurr and the sixers and seconds of North Quadra Pack at a Halloween bunfied. Games were played before supper, and after the Cubs had enjoyed their sandwiches, cake, buns and cocoa they had a nut hunt, each cub competing. Ducking for apples, followed by a happy evening to a close. District Scoutmaster R. W. Hartley and Scoutmaster R. D. Forrester were guests for supper.

North Quadra Pack held a bunfied on Halloween when the sixers and seconds of Akela and Baloo Stark and the sixers and seconds of Fairfield Pack. All the Cubs had a jolly time at apple bobbing, games, etc., finishing with some campfire songs. Akela Sherwood, of Royal Oak Pack, was a very welcome visitor at the meeting on November 2. The following tests were passed: Cub Joe Fox, of the Reds, sheet-bend and close-knot knots; Cub John Hebdon, of the Browns, sheet-bend; Cub Dick Williams and Jack Saunders, of the group, reef knot.

The whole pack enjoyed a game of jumping the bean bag and cups in the circle relay race. The Wolf head for the week was won by the late Sir under Sir Stanley Laver. The month's marks competition resulted in a tie between the Greys and Reds.

During the meeting akela and the Cubs had a "howl" on "Cubs Honor." A short ceremony was held at the close when Sir Billie Oakley received his house officer badge and Acting Second Scout Rodman renewed his promise and received his second star. He is now promoted to full second.

A sixer council was held before the meeting and several important matters talked over, among them football for this season and the choosing of six boys to pay a visit to Brentwood on November 24.

All Cubs are asked to bring eggs as their contribution to the Scout tophop for Christmas. They are also asked to "get a move on" with models for the shield competition.

FAIRFIELD PACK NEWS
Tom Hodnett, Morris Waldren and Myron Ashton received their Service Stars, having been one year in the pack. The new tedderpads, practiced hopping, flag and knot, and Akela held a review of first star tests with the older ones. Scout Edward Hillout took signaling with the Cubs working for their second star. Two good ball games were played with vigor, "animal catch" and "sit and stand." Laurence Rainford passed in skipping, and Tom passed in National Anthem.

The Sixers and Seconds spent a very jolly Halloween as guests of North Quadra Pack.

Sixers Morris Waldren and Tom Hodnett did their good turn on Saturday when they carried back a dog chair to headquarters, from Mrs. Wood's house, where they had been used at a card party given by the parent committee of the troop and pack.

ST. PAUL'S PACK
The last meeting took the form of a bun feed and Akela Lable was glad to welcome several parents. After a "howl" of welcome to the guests, and inspection, supper was served. Miss "Patsy" Phipps was Akela's guest. The Red Wolves under Sixer Louis Jarvis, have won the lozenge and the coveted corner for the month. Akela and the Sixers and Seconds wish to thank St. Mary's North for the wonderful time they had on Saturday with them at the bun feed.

The Old Wolf's Council will hold its regular monthly meeting at headquarters, 1188 Yates Street, at 7.30 p.m. All members are requested to attend, as the sports programme is to be discussed.

Barley Research

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—Considerable interest is being manifested in the proposed barley research. The aim of the research is to widen the markets for Manitoba barley, which is now recognized as becoming important as a "cash" crop to the farmers of the province. The Manitoba Barley Research Committee, with G. H. Burnell as its chairman, and Prof. C. Grant, of the Manitoba Agricultural College, as its secretary, will soon begin its work in a laboratory designed especially for barley research. The chairman, Mr. Burnell, is president of the Manitoba Pool.

A careful study will be made of the market quantity and quality requirements of feeders of barley, of malsters and manufacturers of barley products. It is hoped that by taking more pains in the selection of seed of approved varieties and greater care in the preparation of the soil and the threshing of the crop, that Old Country malsters may become interested in Manitoba barley, especially in that grown in the Red River Valley, which is usually low in protein content and therefore of more value for malting purposes.

of this city, normally about 700,000, this week is swelled to nearly 1,000,000. Many newcomers are craftsmen and merchants, come to this boom market, or workmen and servants, brought for the additional tasks entailed. Many are the merely curious, drawn by the prospect of pageants, fairs and festivals, and by the sheer pulling force of the gathering itself.

All this is an old story for Kyoto, which has seen seventy-two emperors come and go, ascend their thrones as Hirohito will on Saturday, and be taken away to retirement or to their tomb. Kyoto, then called Heian, was made the imperial capital by the fifth sovereign, the Emperor Kwammu, in 794, and held that dignity for 1074 years, until 1868, in the reign of the 122nd emperor, Meiji, when there was a restoration of the imperial power and removal of the seat of government to Tokyo. The graves of a vast majority of the emperors are within a short radius from Kyoto.

Mr. Jack Loutit, who suggested sending the resolution, said that $400,000 was made available for repair work on the P.G.E. at the last session of the Legislature and that from loans of previous years there was still $600,000 available. He contended that the railway directors and the Government could have no excuse for ceasing operations on the North Vancouver-Whitely section of the line for want of funds for repairs to bridges.

Canadian Cousins Elected to Congress

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Two Canadians by birth, Dr. C. A. Eaton and William A. He for some years was pastor of Bluff Street Church, Toronto. After leaving Toronto he lived in Cleveland, later moving to Plainfield, N.J., where he became interested in politics. Like W. R. Eaton, he is a Republican. Both were born in Piquash, N.S., and are cousins.

It is reported that the first order received for an article from the bazaar, to be held in connection with the exhibition, came from a lady in Toronto, who read about the plans for a bazaar on behalf of the new cathedral funds, and wrote to Victoria, offering to buy a piece of Indian beadwork for her drawing-room.

MOTHERS' UNION DELEGATE REPORTS

Mrs. E. E. Wootton, President, Tells Diocesan Branch About Recent Dominion Conference

Mrs. E. E. Wootton, president of the diocesan branch of the Mothers' Union, addressed the Autumn meeting held last Tuesday in the guild room, Memorial Hall, giving a report of the National Council meeting, which she had attended recently in Winnipeg.

One of the outstanding features of the conference was the service held in the Cathedral, which was crowded in spite of the first snow-storm of the season. The Mothers' Union was defined as a spiritual society aiming at ideal Christian motherhood, and as such had sent an urgent petition to the Government, asking that the Bolshevik newspaper printed and published in Canada be suppressed. Among the papers read had been two dealing respectively with "Religious Education in the Home" and "Religious Education in the School." As delegate from the Diocese of Columbia, Mrs. Wootton, while in Winnipeg, was the guest of Archbishop and Mrs. Matheson. This is the first time that the Columbia Diocese has had representation on the Dominion Council, and the meeting on Tuesday furnished its indebtedness to the delegate.

There was a big attendance at the meeting here, and after the routine business was completed, Mrs. Seohfield spoke to the audience about Dr. Wymann's forthcoming lectures. Mrs. Robinson, a missionary on her way back to China, also addressed the gathering, telling of the work being done for the Chinese by Christian Chinese women.

ONWEGO CLASS TO ENTERTAIN TONIGHT FOR YULETIDE CHEER

The ninth annual concert of the Onwego Young Men's Bible Class of the First United Church will be held in the church hall this evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The programme of this year is of exceptional merit, the contributing artists being in the front rank of local talent, and include several gold medalists.

The proceeds are being used to enable the Onwego group to carry out, for the tenth consecutive year, its programme of Christmas cheer to many homes not reached through the regular channels of helplessness at that season.

The programme includes: Introductory remarks by Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D.; piano solos, Miss Dorothy Morton; tenor solos, Mr. Llewellyn Jones; recitations and monologues, Miss Ethel Begwood; male contralto solos, Mrs. Allan Millhouse; violin solos, Mr. Francis Gratton; soprano solos, Miss Edith Howell, and bass solos, Mr. Frank Smoother. Misses Eleanor Barfoot and Miss Dorothy Morton are accompanists.

To ship a new propeller, the British freighter Kilmord was placed in the drydock at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

GAY THROG AT GRILL OPENING

Carnival Spirit Characterizes Dinner Dance and Cabaret at Empress Hotel

A carnival spirit worthy of an old-fashioned Christmas party pervaded the crowd which patronized the dinner dance and cabaret held at the Empress Hotel last night in connection with the opening of the new grillroom. During the last few weeks the place has been greatly enlarged and completely transformed by its bright scheme of decoration, and the arrangement of the tables last evening gave abundant room for dancing between the courses.

The Crystal Garden orchestra, augmented, gave a programme of catchy and up-to-date dance numbers, and this was varied at intervals by cabaret turns furnished by Mrs. Josephine Wood, contralto; a septette of Commodore Broughton Chapter, I.O.E., dancing and singing talent directed by their regent, Mrs. D. B. McCannan; and Miss Irene Bick, violinist, and Miss Dumberton, pianist. The I.O.E. septette comprised Mrs. Helen Starr Weller, contralto, who sang the "Desert Song" waltz while the following girls, dressed in fluffy black-and-white Pierrot costume, danced: Misses Julia McKenna, Margaret Adam, Doris Plimley, Jean McLoughlin, Nona Penderay and Ethel Bell. Mrs. McCannan, in Spanish costume, sang "Jasmine Door," this and all the other numbers on the programme being enthusiastically encored.

The scene was very animated and bright, a further touch of gaiety being added by the cyclamens, red carnations and chrysanthemums used for the decoration of the tables. Several big individual parties made up the three hundred or more people present, among the hosts being Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilson, who had as their guests His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. McKenna, Premier and Mrs. Tolmie, Mayor and Mrs. Penderay, and several others at a table of twenty-eight. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. B. Dickson, with a party of twelve, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hill, with a party of twelve;

FLYING OVER LAND IS PRACTICAL NOW

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—While fearless men continue to lose their lives in attempts to fly the Atlantic and experts debate over the practicability of dirigibles, the public is apt to lose sight of the fact that air services over land are becoming a reality, says The Ottawa Morning Journal in an editorial entitled "Air Mails a Reality."

"There is a well-established air mail service in the United States, an international air mail service between the United States and Canada; and the whole of the Dominion will soon be linked up in the same way. The last announcement to this end is that regular air carriage of mails is to be begun between Saint John, N.B., and Montreal. "The truth is that, regardless of what fate or science may have in store for the future of air traffic between continents, flying over land has passed the realm of experiment, has been established as a reality of commerce and communication. In Government, in industrial, in mining, and in several other activities, airplanes today are playing their part, and no one who knows anything of their value can at all believe that they are a passing phase. They have, indeed, become as much a reality as railways or automobiles."

Snowflake Shareholders Re-elect All of Directors

VANCOUVER, Nov. 7.—Shareholders of the snowflake group of mines re-elected en bloc their directors at the annual meeting here tonight. While there was criticism offered by shareholders of announcements made by J. B. Williams, president of the company, in connection with the uncovering of ore bodies in the mine some weeks ago, Mr. Williams pointed out that he had given these to newspapers in good faith, relying upon the report of the resident engineer at the mine, who he said, had since been discharged.

The Attorney-General is informed in reply sent by the commissioners to his ultimatum to clean up local liquor situation.

The commissioners stated that their only instructions to chief of police were to carry out the law without fear or favor. The commission expressed every confidence in the chief and the other members of the police force.

The reply also stated the commission had no objection to the provincial police taking part in police work here at any time when they deemed they could improve conditions, and said that it would not be necessary to send any notice in advance.

The Coat Dress Slenderizes

Quite the most skillful and comfortable method of reducing the figure of too ample curves and proportions is by way of optical illusion. The eye of the beholder can be deceived into seeing the silhouette considerably slendertized and lengthened through the simple procedure of selecting correct lines in a frock. Fashion's edict for the matronly figure is at least one coat dress for the Fall season, and that in a smart woolen. Perfection of tailoring possible with wool fabrics is one of the most subtle methods employed in the creation of long, slim lines. There are many variations of the coat dress, but common to all is the closely fitting sleeve, the smooth shoulder, snug hipline, narrow belt, ingeniously inserted skirt pleats, button trim and deep V neck, softened by a dainty vestee. In necklines the notched collar is typical, and of such narrow width as to further the effect of long lines. This sometimes extends to the belt in the single-breasted closing, or is evolved through the popular and becoming surplice front.

Replete in brown, black or navy is used for the attractive model sketched at the left showing a very deep collar and surplice vest. Note that a long dart is placed at the shoulder to preserve a narrow line there and to allow sufficient fullness over the bust. A trio of braided bands of varying length defines the hipline just to break up the too plain back. For no woman is a plain length of fabric from neck to hem by any means the least bit flattering. Tweeds in their featherweight quality and shadowy blend of two tones of two colors look especially well in the tailored coat dress. The outstanding feature of the centre frock of tweed is the diagonally placed front, the contrast between the two tones of the tweed especially well in the tailored coat dress. For six years Mr. Flower has been mayor of Stratford upon Avon, and is chairman of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, as well as chairman of the governors of Shakespeare's School. Old English Yuletide Festival Opens Dec. 22

Christmas Carnival Hallowed by Six Centuries of English Tradition Will Be Conducted at Empress Hotel Here

During the coming Christmas festivities, hallowed by six centuries of English tradition, will be observed as never before, and for their setting they will have the city of Victoria, a corner of England on the Pacific Coast. Here, in the Empress Hotel, an Old English Yuletide Festival will open on December 22, and continue until after the New Year. The holly and ivy and rosemary, celebrated in English song, all flourish in Victoria, and will supply the traditional setting for the carolling, the wassailing, the mumming, the Twelfth Night merrymaking, the Yule log, the mistletoe, and the other delights that warmed Geoffrey Chaucer's heart. The Empress Hotel, which will be more attractive this year than ever before, will have all the lights in front of the hotel in different colors, and will have its trees adorned with varied colored lights. There will be four Christmas trees in the hotel, with the regular Christmas decorations on them. Mr. Harold Eustace Key, director of Canada's major festivals, is arranging the musical programmes for the nightly concerts at the Empress during the festival. He has in hand a representation of "Wardie's Christmas Party," as immortalized by Charles Dickens in the "Pickwick Papers." This is to have a running commentary of Yuletide music to set off the charming foibles of its lovely ludicrous characters. Dr. Healy Willan, of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, has composed for the occasion, incidental music to "The Chester Mystery," a group of mediæval pageants, which used to be enacted by the trade guilds of Chester, England, dealing with the timeless theme of the shepherds and the Babe of Bethlehem. The first performance of these Mysteries was in 1328, exactly 600 years ago. A mutual friend told recently an amusing story concerning Sir Harry Lauder. Like many other theatrical and music-hall stars, the famous Scottish comedian keeps a collection of press notices all neatly pasted in books. One volume is devoted to jokes and stories—mostly fictitious—that have appeared in various publications relative to his alleged "closeness" in money matters, and, concerning this, the genial comedian made an impromptu joke of his own. Tapping the bulky tome with his finger, he said: "Most people try to put something by for a rainy day, but judging from the stories these newspaper chaps tell about me it would seem as if I am preparing for a deluge."

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

STRAWBERRY VALE

The monthly meeting of the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon in the institute's hall on Wilkinson Street. There was a good attendance of members, with the president, Mrs. Austin, in the chair. The treasurer reported that the finances are in good condition, and the home cooking stall increased the funds by $11.25. Another quilting bee will be held on Thursday, November 22, commencing at 10 a.m. All members and their friends are invited to be present. A letter was read from the Armistice Period Committee. This being the tenth anniversary of Armistice Day everyone is urged to wear a poppy, and three representatives from the institute volunteered to sell tags on Poppy Day.

Up to the present none of the members have gathered any history of old times of the district; two members were therefore appointed to make a special effort to obtain photographs and history before another meeting. A resolution was passed by the members that the Strawberry Vale Women's Institute recommend that a portion of the legislative vote in aid of Women's Institutes be set aside to enable isolated institutes to obtain lecturers, demonstrators and speakers. A copy of this resolution is to be sent to the Premier and the Hon. Minister of Agriculture. After the business Miss Madeline Prindle gave a very interesting demonstration of beadwork, and refreshments were served by Mrs. George Jones.

LAKE HILL

The monthly meeting of the Lake Hill Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon in the institute room, with sixteen members and three visitors present. Mrs. Service presided. Reports of the various committees included two wool bees, three successful card parties, and the fancy dress party and shower for the solarium. It was decided that the $44 donated at the shower be given to the Solarium committee to purchase trays for the children.

A conspicuous sign displayed on a transcontinental motor highway in the State of Washington reads as follows: "This is God's country. Don't set it on fire and make it look like Hell."

The Husband—I see that Presley, who died the other day, left his wife half a million. How would you like to be his widow?

The Wife—You know, dear, that I would rather be yours.

Peel Your Skin To Natural Beauty

To give your skin that natural appearance of clear, unblemished loveliness, use daily a cream which removes the surface of your skin from your druggist and use as directed. The wax gradually absorbs the coarse, faded or discolored film, skin is almost invisible particles. Soon the under skin is revealed clear, velvety-soft and fresh. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. It safely removes wrinkles and renews facial contour, use as an exfoliant, 1 ounce powdered ascorbic and 1 half pint witch hazel. (Adv.)

The woman who would be well dressed simply must include at least one ensemble in her winter wardrobe.

And by "ensemble" I mean a costume on the order of the one pictured above. Of a beautiful imported tweed, black, if you please, it boasts a three-quarter length jacket, bordered and cuffed with flat, shagreen goat.

The silver buckle connects the silver grey flat crepe blouse with the skirt in an artistic manner.

Eminent Women Are Elected to Congress in U.S.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Nov. 7.—When the arresting rap-rap of the gavel is heard in the House of Representatives at the opening of the seventy-fourth Congress, the higher-pitched voices of women will sound more frequently than of old. There will be three additions to the female ranks of the House, all three of whom are new to the body, and all with names well known because of their accomplishments or connections before they received this latest honor.

They are Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, daughter of Mark Hanna, herself a leader in Republican affairs, from Illinois; Mrs. Ruth Pratt, first woman sent to Congress from New York, and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, Democrat, Florida. A member of the growing group is Miss Katherine Langley, Republican, who was re-elected in her district in Kentucky.

Other Republican women who succeeded their husbands in the House, Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Florence Kahn, of San Francisco, also were elected. Mrs. J. R. Norton, of New Jersey, a Democrat.

Substantial Sum Is Realized From Show

The monthly meeting of Gonzales Chapter was held on Tuesday, the regent, Mrs. Nichol, presiding. The report on the Fall fashion show, held last month, were read, and it was found that when all expenses were paid, the sum realized by that entertainment amounted to just over $300. The secretary recorded the grateful thanks of the chapter to all those who so kindly helped on that occasion. It was decided to transfer one hundred dollars to the hospital account. Books were asked for by the hospital library committee, the authors specially mentioned being Zane Grey, Oliver Curwood, Oppenheim, Bert Ruck and Gene Stratton Porter. It is intended to hold a book shower after Christmas, when Mrs. Gillespie has kindly offered to lend her home for the occasion. The chapter declared itself very much in favor of the preservation of wild flowers. The regent made a sympathetic reference to the late Mr. A. E. Todd, and moved a standing vote of condolence with Mrs. Todd, and with Mr. Todd's sister, Mrs. Hedden Gillespie, regent of the Municipal Chapter. Mrs. Miles attended the meeting and asked for assistance in child welfare work. Mrs. Hoffman, who was welcomed as a new member, undertook to act as convener of a needlework guild to provide garments for that object, each member to send in two new garments yearly, as the chapter's contribution to child welfare work. It was decided to present an historical picture to Monterey School, on the nearest convenient date to Armistice Day. Mrs. Goddard made some practical suggestions with regard to the usual Christmas hamper for soldiers' families.

RUPTURE

Expert in Victoria

Rupture is not a tear or breach in the abdomen as commonly supposed, but a dilation or stretching of a natural opening due to weakness or strain sufficient to permit the viscera to protrude, therefore nothing to knit or heal as ignorantly believed, but same will contract or close if the contents be kept out of this. This opening is never larger than a nickel, seldom larger than a ten-cent piece—so why use big pads to cover small openings or wear trusses where the lump is under the skin? Rupture is, as everybody does! Any Rupture can be held with the end of a lead pencil. The smaller the Rupture, the greater the danger, large Ruptures more difficult to retain. Incisional Ruptures (resulting from operations), are the most difficult and complicated as well as a positive and permanent injury.

"Besley" Spermatic Shield will not only retain any case of rupture, perfectly, but contracts the opening in 10 days on the average case. Being a vast advancement over all former methods—employing incisional effects immediately appreciable and withstanding any strain or position no matter the size or location. Large or difficult cases, or incisional ruptures (following operations) specially solicited. This instrument received the only award in England and in Spain, producing results without surgery, injections, medical treatments or prescriptions.

Supplied to the late Dr. Edward Shippen, former Medical Director U.S. Navy; also to Surg. Gen. Bureau, U.S. Naval Hospital—Penn. R.R. CAUTION—Avoid all elastic or web trusses with understraps, or other styles of the usual trade patterns, as they invariably rest where the lump is, and that is not where the opening is.

"BARBERRY BUSH"

One Girl's Marriage Problems
By KATHLEEN NORRIS

One day, a cloudy Christmas Eve, Link turned his horse's head and the collapsed old gate of the Du Spain ranch and stopped outside of the patio wall with a call for Barbara.

There was no answer; there was no stir of life on the place. Link jumped down and pushed open the patio door.

A slender woman, inside the court, was pinning baby linen to an improved clothesline that crossed a corner at a slant. A tall woman, with her copper head bare and her cotton dress spattered and spotted with water, Barbara.

She looked a little pale; her hair was brushed carelessly off her forehead and her hands were wet from washing. And for a few seconds she seemed bewildered.

Then pleasure lighted her tired face and her color came back. She caught at Link's hands eagerly and clung to them.

"Well, Link Mackenzie!" said her pleasant, rich voice welcomingly. "What a wonderful thing for you to do!"

"Happy birthday, Barbara!" the man said, grinning.

"Happy—?" She had obviously forgotten it. Then her face lighted. "Link—you're wonderful! You never forget it!" she said. "Happy birthday to you, too! I'm so sorry Barry's not here. I expect him home today. He went up to San Francisco and he intended to get back today. But he won't be here until tomorrow now—he would have come out with Tomas at noon if he'd been coming. Well, Link! How good it is to see you! But, come in and see my darter Kate. She's grand."

Link, bending his head a little at the low lintel, followed her into the warm kitchen, where a fire was crackling hospitably and where, in a washing basket set on the floor not far away from a tiny baby lying sound asleep in a nest of white blankets and snowy pillow.

Slender and exquisite in her young motherhood, Barbara went on her knees beside the basket and turned her radiant smile from him to the tiny face on the pillow. There was something in her aspect then almost too sweet to be borne by the man, who felt himself crude and ignorant besides her chiseled fineness and sensitiveness.

"Barbara, eyelashes!" "Imagine your seeing them! But, look!" She put the transparent scarlet tip of a finger ball beneath them, against the infinitely soft little pulpy cheek, and glanced up again proudly. "Her eyes are black as night," added Barbara in a tone with something of night's own mysterious darkness in it.

"And how old is she now?" "Kate was five weeks old yesterday," the mother said, computing. "Is Barry wild about her?" Link was still watching the baby.

"We're both half-witted about her," Barbara answered proudly. "And was she born here?" "Right here in this room!" Suddenly she paled again and a dark shadow swept her beautiful eyes like the shadow of a bird flying over still pools. Only an instant, and it was gone again and she was smiling. But he had seen it.

"This woman Kate here," said Barbara, pursuing the subject solemnly, "arrived a week before the date previous marconigrams had indicated. Consequently, her mother had only time to summon Maria Bettancourt from the next ranch here. Luckily, Maria was at home, and also her mother, Engracia Rivas. Old Mrs. Rivas came waddling over here instantly and enjoyed the whole affair enormously."

"Barbara, what luck! Suppose you had been quite alone! Where was Barry?" "Barry had gone off to Milo on an errand. When he returned and found the Bettancourts in possession he promptly went off again."

She had begun the recital whimsically, amusedly. But her voice thickened treacherously on the last word and her bright head drooped a little over the gold fuzz of the baby's head.

He hadn't left her here in the ranch house to have her first baby with only two ignorant Portuguese women in charge? Link asked himself in horror. She might have died, as thousands of women in safer surroundings had died at this time.

"Barry hates suffering and he hates fuss," Barbara recommenced composedly, after a moment. "Everything went beautifully and Dr. Bonner, who arrived here at about 6 o'clock, found Kate in the best of health and spirits, about an hour old."

She would not let her thoughts stop here, she would not let herself remember the kitchen, rocking with agonies for some woman—not Barbara. Atherion, but somebody else—a screaming, writhing girl on the couch there, with a frightened old Latin woman trying to hold her down.

And then twilight and freight and exhausted peace. No voice—

ST. MARY'S CHOIR ENTERTAINMENT

Capital Programme Is Presented for Two Evenings at St. Mary's Hall

One of the most successful entertainments given by St. Mary's Choir was staged on Monday and Tuesday evenings at St. Mary's Hall. An interesting programme of part songs, songs, trios, etc., constituted the first part of the entertainment.

The opening item was Coleridge-Taylor's "Viking Song," sung with much vigor and rhythmic feeling by choir, who, as before, played a "Spring Song." A Motet's "Lullaby" and Eaton Panings "The Miller's Wooing," the ladies of the choir contributed, followed by "The Shepherd." Mr. A. Jacques received an encore for his singing of "Matinata," responding with Bruno Hübner's "Invictus." Mrs. Penicod, who has a pleasing light opera voice, was recalled for her offering of "Happy Valley," as was also Mr. G. H. Llewellyn, who sang "Awake" and "I Know of Two Bright Eyes."

Two boys of the choir, Masters Raymond Gravelin and Percy Wickert, were very enthusiastically applauded for their singing of "My Mountain Home" (Ash Grove), and "Love Was Once a Little Boy," both boys being the possessors of clear voices and evidencing careful training. Mention must also be made of the rendering of Dr. Arne's "When Daisies Pied" and a humorous part-song, "Little Jack Horner," by the boys of the choir. Both these items were redemanded.

During the interval between the musical section of the programme and the play which followed, Miss Joyce Finch and Miss Lenore Fletcher delighted the audience with a "Flame Dance." Mr. F. Richardson recited "My First and Last Appearance," much to the amusement of the listeners; Miss G. Browne played Chopin's "Minute" waltz, and Miss G. White played Leschitzky's "Two Little Birds," responding to an encore with Dett's "Juba."

The comedy, "Browne With an E," under the stage management of Mr. C. Macdonald, proved quite a "hit," and evoked continuous rounds of applause and laughter, the players acquitting themselves in an excellent manner and evincing marks for genuine ability.

They were sitting together in the drawing-room, the pretty girl and the dull young man.

"Would you cheerfully walk six miles for my sake?" she asked, with one eye on the clock.

"Of course I would," the young man declared earnestly. "I'd love doing it!"

"Splendid," said the girl. "You see, it's half-past twelve, and your last bus went an hour ago!"

"THE WHIP" SHOWS AT CAPITOL TODAY

Mill-A-Minute Melodrama Stars
Dorothy Mackaill and
Ralph Forbes

Enough thrills and excitement to last a lifetime are packed into a few reels of film in "The Whip," First National's picturization of the famous stage melodrama which opens today at the Capitol Theatre.

For sheer, mile-a-minute melodrama, with deep-dyed villains, beautiful heroes, noble heroines and all the other familiar components of melodrama of this type, "The Whip" can scarcely be surpassed.

It has train wrecks, a hero with amnesia, an automobile smashup, numerous falls from horses both unintentional and otherwise, enough plots to start twenty South American revolutionaries and divers other accompanying highlights.

On the stage are Lucille Enderly, the female baritone, in song selections; Sheehan and Richardson, the concert duettists, and Senor Eduardo and his marimbaphone, along with the Capitol Stage Band, and Harold Bechtel, the singing announcer.

COLISEUM Nils Asther, who plays the juvenile in the Duncan Sisters' "Topsy and Eva," has made pictures in Sweden, Germany, Denmark, France, and now Hollywood. Born in Sweden in 1900, Asther has been an actor since his thirteenth year, appearing in several classics as a romantic young lover. Asther was discovered by Director Maurice Stiller when he was making pictures in Sweden. "His Day Off" is the title of the stage attraction which the Lee Jaxon Players are offering this week.

PLAYHOUSE The filming of Jack Theatrical's gripping novel, "Honor Bound," by Fox Films has resulted in a startling expose of prison camp life. George O'Brien and Estelle Taylor have the star roles in this film, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The production was directed by Alfred E. Green, who is said to have turned out one of the finest pictures of the year.

DOMINION After the leading part in "Beat the Gate," Colman and Miss Banky resumed their partnership in "The Night of Love." "The Winning of Barbara Worth," "The Magic Flame" and "The Two Lovers" are now at the Dominion Theatre. Whatever doubt the producer had as to the wisdom of starring his two famous players in the same production when the filmed version of "Leatherstocking" began to take concrete form. From then on, Mr. Colman's decision to pair the two actors was a foregone conclusion.

Arlon Club Opens Thirty-Seventh Year At Royal Nov. 15

The Arlon Club will open its thirty-seventh season at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday, November 15. Kolia Levenne, pianist, and John Hopper, pianist, will assist the club on that occasion, they and the club dividing the programme about equally. The London Times says: "Kolia Levenne is a performer of very pronounced ability. He has a well-finished technique, and under his vigorous bowing his tone always remains clear and musical." His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss MacKenzie will attend the concert, and a large audience, consisting of associate members and their friends, is already assured. Fifty students from St. Margaret's School will attend in a body. For the information of newcomers to Victoria, it may be stated that the Arlon Club is the oldest male club in Canada. The singing members, who number sixty, are carefully examined before admission to the club. The associate members are those who subscribe for two or more tickets for the season and who constitute the audience. Vacancies occur annually in the ranks of the associate members, owing to removals from the city, and other causes. Those wishing to become associates may do so through any member of the club or at the office of the club, 112 Pemberton Building.

Queen Mary, Jr.

By J. H. Stricker

It's very trying on one's dignity—to be marching along as the queen of the land of make believe. But the court jester can't seem to live up to his part.

AMUSEMENTS

Capitol—"Mad Hour," starring Alice White and Sally O'Neil.

Columbia—"Dolores Del Rio in 'Ramona'."

Cellarum—"Topsy and Eva," with The Duncan Sisters.

Dominion—"Two Lovers," featuring Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky.

Playhouse—George O'Brien in "Honor Bound."

Dolores Del Rio Stars in "Ramona" At the Columbia

An entirely new departure in titles on the screen will be one of the many novel features attendant to the showing of the inspiration Pictures-Edwin Carewe production of "Ramona," starring Dolores Del Rio, which is now showing at the Columbia Theatre. Edwin Carewe, who directed "Ramona," has devised an entirely new idea in titling the film. Heretofore, all pictures have been shown with white titles against a black background. The titles in "Ramona" are black against a white background—entirely reversing the usual standard.

Wonderful Musical Instrument Used by Rose Marie Orchestra

In the orchestra of "Rose Marie," the musical play that comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre, November 12 and 13, with a Thanksgiving matinee, the audience will not only be amazed by the beauty of the score, but by its unusual instrumentation. Besides the battery of violins, oboes and harp, there is the "celeste," an instrument that is not well known in this country. This instrument was invented by Victor Mustel, of Paris, in 1886. It did not come into general use until about twenty years ago. One of the first to employ it in symphonic music was Tchaikovsky, who saw it in Paris in 1891. "I have discovered a new instrument in Paris," he wrote his publisher, "something between a piano and a glockenspiel, with a divinely beautiful tone."

SCOTTISH CIVIC ELECTIONS HELD

Labor Party Fails to Duplicate Success at English and Welsh Municipal Polls

EDINBURGH, Nov. 7.—Labor, after widespread victories in the English municipal elections, staged a keen fight in the Scottish municipal elections yesterday, but failed to gain much success.

In Glasgow, Labor made a net gain of one seat. Elections in Edinburgh, Aberdeen, Dundee and Greenock resulted in gains of three seats by the Moderates, who have majorities in a large number of places. The Moderates also captured four seats, two each from Labor and Communists, at Lochgelly, in the heart of the Fife coalfields. One of the defeated candidates there was the president of the Fife and Kinross Miners' Association.

The outstanding feature, however, was the complete rout of Communist candidates throughout Scotland. At Glasgow, their strongest point, Communists gained only 2,218 votes, less than 1 per cent of the total votes recorded in the election there. Defeated Communists included Aileen Ferguson, well-known Communist leader, who received 243 votes in an electorate of 12,000.

Alexander Lauder, brother of Sir Harry Lauder, was unsuccessful as an Independent candidate in a working town of Hamilton, Lanarkshire.

Beware of Bladder Weakness Getting-Up-Nights

Disturbed Rest Undermines Health, Raps Vitality, States Physicist Who Recommends Home Treatment

Men and women who are constantly aroused and disturbed by bladder weakness or urinary irritations should take immediate steps to combat their trouble before it reaches a serious or perhaps dangerous stage.

Headaches, dizziness, pains in feet and legs, nervousness, restlessness, frequent and scanty urination with burning and pain, getting-up-nights—these are some of the more troublesome signs of bladder weakness or irritation that should have prompt attention.

No matter how stubborn your case may seem to be, or how many different medicines you have tried without success—don't give up and think your case hopeless or the natural consequence of advancing years until you have tried the special, private presentation of Dr. Southworth, a physician of nearly fifty years' successful experience.

MINISTER HAS

METHOD FOR SAVING WASTE

Suggestion of Part Payment for Discarded Textbooks Which Are Returned in Good Condition

SCHOOL COSTS WOULD BE CUT

The Minister of Education, having heard many representations from various quarters representing the parents of school children on the subject of effecting savings in the cost of education, is giving a very kindly consideration to these aspects of the educational problem. But there is another large contributor to the educational costs of the province which he is also concerned about, and this is the province itself, which is a heavy bearer of the burdens that go with modern education.

A subject connected with this latter aspect of the situation is that arising out of the free textbook system of distribution. Hon. J. Hinchcliffe is inclined now to believe that it is possible to effect a great saving of something like $20,000, or a little more, in the expenditures under the heading of free textbooks, and at the same time inculcate in the minds of the school children the necessity of taking greater care of the books that are given them.

The Minister is of the opinion that there is every reason for believing that the textbooks issued to the pupils at the beginning of the term, should not in all cases have outlived their usefulness at its end.

With the object in view of passing the textbooks on from pupil to pupil so that they may serve two or perhaps in some instances three successive pupils, either in the same family or outside of the family, he has a proposal to offer which may be brought into effect.

INDUCEMENT OFFERED
It is necessary, he realizes, if the plan is to be effectively carried out that there must be an incentive to prompt greater care of the books on the part of the pupils. According to the suggestion that is offered by the Minister, upon the opening of the new term of school work, the pupil who presents one of the needed textbooks for that term in good condition and which is serviceable enough for use throughout the coming term, shall receive, say, half the original price of the book.

In this way it is suggested there may at least be a saving of one-half the number of these books that would be required to be issued by the department at the opening of a term. This would be a decided economy for the Government, and would in addition to the expenditure which would otherwise have been necessary for brand new books mean a reduced cost in the matter of distribution of these, which is considerable.

In carrying out this plan it will at once appear that there might be greater care taken of the books than is sometimes shown at the present time, if these books are to be made available for more than one pupil.

METHOD OF PROCEDURE
The department would not become responsible for the collection of the books that had been in use throughout the term; the work would be either thrust upon the teachers. The method of transferring the books would be through the medium of the pupils or their parents, who, upon acquiring a book that was in good shape for another term, would be allowed half price on it, which money would be thus available in the purchase of other necessary supplies for the pupil.

The matter is being given a lot of attention by the minister, who is taking occasion to get the views of various bodies which he is called upon to meet, so that he may have the fullest information before he decides upon the course as a departmental matter.

H. Williams and the Wilkinson Road Male Quartette. Humor and pathos were cleverly intermingled and greatly appreciated by her audience.

Prince Edward Branch

LANGFORD, Nov. 7.—A meeting of the Prince Edward Branch, Canadian Legion No. 91, was held in the clubhouse on the Island Highway on Monday evening, also one of the Women's Auxiliary in the annex. Arrangements were made for the sale of work to be held on Friday evening, November 9, at 8 o'clock. It was agreed to have an informal dance instead of the programme previously announced, the music being provided by a large electric gramophone similar to that which proved to be so popular before. At the conclusion of the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. E. M. Meredith-Jones and Mrs. J. Saltmarsh.

Willie's father—"You didn't let him get away with it, did you?"

"I should say not! I asked him to bring his father round tomorrow night and prove it."

Sandy and Andy had but lately arrived from Pile. It was their first visit to the metropolis, and they were both anxious to find the streets, which, by legend, were "paved with gold."

On their journey from King's Cross, Sandy spotted a signpost pointing in the gutter of the station yard. Eagerly he pounced on it, with a triumphant smile at his companion's dour face.

"Och, Sandy mon," remarked the other scathingly, "ye dinna hae waste your time on that, mon. Wait till ye get in the thick of it."

AT ALMOST 70, WINS $1,000 PHYSICAL CULTURE FIRST PRIZE

Can youth alone be physically perfect? No, physical perfection can be attained at any age. Dr. Jackson, a dying old man at fifty, learned how to live properly and at sixty-five captured the $1,000 Physical Culture first prize from all comers. He tells how in his 428-page book, "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL," it was largely due to living the entire life upon Roman Meal for two whole years.

Roman Meal is alkali-forming, and just it keeps our blood alkaline, as it must be if we are to be well. Civilization's foods are acid-forming. Roman Meal corrects the acids formed in our blood and keeps us well.

Dr. Jackson was dying from "acidosis" at fifty. Roman Meal normalized his acid blood and will do so for you. Write for his new, unopened Roman Meal recipe and a copy of his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," to Dr. Robt. G. Jackson, 215 Vine Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

REV. S. LUNDIE CONGRATULATED

Minister of Knox Church, Sooke, Honored by Congregation on Attaining Moderatorship

SOOKE, Nov. 6.—A large gathering of the congregation of Knox Church, Sooke, together with the people of the district, as well as members of the Presbytery of Victoria, met on Tuesday evening to honor Rev. Samuel Lundie, B.A., on his election as Moderator of the Presbytery of British Columbia. The chair was occupied by Mr. E. Milne, who called upon Mrs. J. A. Murray, a member of the congregation for the past thirty years, to read the address, which is as follows:

"To the Rev. Samuel Lundie, B.A. On behalf of the congregation of Knox Church and the people of Sooke generally, we desire to extend to you our hearty congratulations on your recently being appointed Moderator of the Presbytery of British Columbia. This appointment carries with it the general oversight of all work carried on by our church in the province, both in large and small congregations, and while we realize the great honor done to us, a small country charge, we know that by your unfailing tact and good judgment, along with business ability and intimate knowledge of Church Law and Procedure, you will discharge all the duties of your office with credit to yourself, to your people in Sooke, and in honor to the Master whom we serve."

Mr. T. Humphries, clerk of the Presbytery, extended greetings and congratulations both to the minister and the people on the signal honor that had been conferred upon them. The speaker stated that in extensive travel over Western Canada, nothing delighted him more than to see the country church and the country school. Any community, he said, that gave prominence to these two institutions made a place more attractive to live in.

Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell, of St. Andrew's Church, and Rev. J. S. Patterson, of St. Paul's Church, spoke especially to the large delegation that had come out from Victoria. A splendid musical programme was rendered by the W. A. Glee Club, Mrs. J. S. Patterson and Messrs. Gamble and Stacey. Mr. A. Kohout expressed appreciation to all who had taken part in the programme and especially to the large delegation that had come out from Victoria.

Refreshments were served by the ladies and the happy gathering was brought to a close by singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

An energetic committee had decorated the hall, the products of the farm entering largely into the scheme of things. EGGS IN WINTER SUBJECT OF TALK

Mr. J. R. Terry Gives Interesting Address to Methodist Farmers—Pool Is Discussed

MECHOSIN, Nov. 7.—There was a large attendance at the Farmers' Institute meeting, held in the hall on Monday evening. Unfortunately, the motion pictures of the Fall Fair, sheep raising, etc., could not be shown, owing to there being no electric light available. This was a great disappointment, as many children were there in anticipation of pleasure. Mr. J. R. Terry gave an interesting talk on "Why You Do Not Get Eggs in Winter." He gave a number of pointers on what to add to the usual feed, mentioning particularly scalded and boiled grain, we: milk mash, providing as far as possible variety and April conditions. He recommended baled alfalfa if young greenstuff was not available. He also gave ideas on fattening cockerels and turkeys.

The egg pool was discussed. Mr. Frank Goodsell, who has sent out much literature on the subject, announced that still about ten contracts should be signed in the district, as twenty-five should be obtained from this district, and only fifteen have been signed at the present.

The directors and Mr. J. Stuart Yates were elected as delegates to the Institute convention, being held in Victoria on November 23, the executive to elect substitutes if necessary.

The president announced that among other subjects brought up will be the following: The use of logged-off lands, the cost of medical services, brown, and the Oriental question.

The prizes won at the Luxton Fair were distributed, including the Hon. W. Nichol Cup, won by Mr. A. Deveson in the garden competition; Goatbreeders' Cup and Farmers' Institute Goat Cup, both won by Miss Wilson.

WILL DISREGARD LEGAL OPINION

Duncan Consolidated School Board Decides to Insure Children in Buses

DUNCAN, Nov. 7.—The Duncan Consolidated School Board has decided to disregard the opinion of their legal adviser in the matter of the insurance of children in school buses, and the recommendation of the transportation committee as contained in the following report, was adopted by the board:

"After considerable thought and many consultations and meetings, and notwithstanding legal advice to the contrary, they decided to recommend that insurance be placed on all school buses to protect the board against legal liability, passenger-hazards only."

The premiums up to June 30 next for five buses will amount to $271.35, of which the Government is expected to pay one-half. This will afford protection up to $5,000 for one individual or a total of $10,000 for one accident.

Delegates to the recent School Trustees' convention submitted their report, from which the following is an extract: "While at Penticton the delegates took advantage of their first visit to look into the working of the junior high school there, especially constructed at a cost of $14,000, but the delegates were not much impressed with the results, and thought that the establishment of these schools should be proceeded with very slowly." After an interview in committee of the whole with Principal J. N. O'Neill, of the elementary schools, the board decided to ask the provincial police to stop the speeding of automobiles past the schools. According to the principal the situation is serious and several accidents have been narrowly averted. It was also decided to ask the committee on supplies and repairs to consider the construction of an open shed, sixty by forty, in the school grounds, for the use of buses and children on rainy days.

The same committee will be asked to procure twenty pairs of playing cards for the use of the school, and also to look into the matter of providing the principal with a private room, where he may interview parents and others.

MR. ERNST TO SPEAK TODAY

LUNenburg M.P. WILL GIVE REVIEW OF PROBLEMS OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES

Canadian and Rotary Clubs Will Hear Eastern Parliamentarian at Luncheon in Empire

"Problems of the Maritime Provinces" will be the subject of the address before the joint luncheon of the Canadian and Rotary clubs in the Empress Hotel ballroom today at 12 noon. The speaker-guest will be Mr. William G. Ernst, M.P., who represents the constituency of Queen's-Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, in the House of Commons at Ottawa.

This subject is one that has assumed Dominion-wide proportions, and is especially interesting to British Columbia, for this province also has its problems to work out with the Dominion.

Mr. Ernst, who is touring the Western Provinces under the auspices of the Association of Canadian Clubs, is a Rhodes scholar and served in the Great War, winning the Military Cross and bar.

The Association of Canadian Clubs has sent Mr. Ernst out on this Western expedition for the purpose of acquainting Canadians in this part of the Dominion with the conditions and problems of Eastern Canada. He will shortly dispatch a speaker from Western Canada to the East to outline the problems of the West to the people in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

WORKING HARD FOR DUMP DUTY

Representatives of Fruit and Vegetable Interests of Province Will Go to Prairies

The secretary of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, Mr. L. D. Mallory, reports that the publicity campaign for the reinstatement of the dump duty has been working steadily since the meeting in Vernon on September 4 and 5, at which some eighty persons, representing the fruit, vegetable, nursery and florist interests of British Columbia were present, the outcome of which meeting was the outlining of the aforementioned campaign.

The fruit and vegetable interests of this province, under the active direction of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, have been working steadily for adequate protection by means of a dump duty. They are now sending a delegation to Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba to lay their case before such bodies as the wheat pools, united farmers, poultry associations, boards of trade, etc.

It is felt that by a clear discussion of this vitally important question, a better understanding of the problem will be arrived at.

The personnel of the delegation to the Prairies is S. W. Dufour, of Penticton, a representative appointed by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' and Shippers' Federation; Mr. Holland, of Hane, the latter representing the poultry interests, and one other member. These representatives of the British Columbia fruit and vegetable industry will leave for the Prairie Provinces on or about November 12.

The growers and the Government have raised, mutually, a fund of over $5,000 with which to finance and carry out this project.

A meeting of the executive of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association is to be held at Kelowna, on November 10, at which there will be a final conference between the delegates and this executive before leaving.

UNIVERSITY NEEDS TOLD TO MINISTER

Effect Made to Ascertain Necessary Appropriations for University of British Columbia

Hon. J. Hinchliffe returned from the Mahiland yesterday after consulting with the authorities of the university with respect to the possible needs of that institution for the coming year, commencing with March 31. With the estimates of the department now being considered by the Minister of Education, he is anxious to have something approaching a definite idea as to what will be required under the heading of the university.

It is not suggested by Mr. Hinchliffe that he called for the definite requirements for university purposes at this conference that he held on Tuesday, but he was given what might be regarded as an understanding of the situation that faced the authorities of the institution. Later the estimates will be submitted to the university for consideration by the department preparatory to placing them before the Government and the Legislature in turn.

The needs of a university are naturally very great if all the ideals of the university men could be carried into execution, but last year, it will be recalled, the estimates coming from the university itself were prepared on a plan which allowed a good deal of latitude, and the most pressing needs were placed as such, with the additional requirements, in the order of their importance as viewed by the heads of the university. This allowed the Government, when these were estimated, "to cut their garment according to their cloth," as it were.

Following the conference with the university, the Minister of Education met the principals of the Vancouver schools, and had a conference with them, becoming acquainted with them and hearing any suggestions which they had to offer with regard to educational matters.

Two men were seated in a railway carriage.

As soon as the train started one got up and opened a window. After a few moments the other shut it. The first man immediately rose and opened it once more.

"What do you think you are playing at?" angrily demanded the man who had shut the window.

"Drumsticks," said his companion, "Your move."

CAPT. THORNTON TO SPEAK HERE

SPONSOR OF BIG BROTHER MOVEMENT TO ARRIVE ON NIAGARA

Objective is to Help Youths to Engage in Agricultural Career

When the liner Niagara docks on Friday evening, among the passengers will be Captain R. G. Thornton, M.C., traveling representative of the Big Brother Movement. This movement, which was founded in Australia by Richard Linton, M.L.A., is a voluntary system to encourage boys to settle on the land in Australia. The scheme has proved more than successful, and Mr. F. A. Pauline, Agent-General for British Columbia, has been in constant communication with Mr. James Beatty, the local member, in regard to starting a similar movement in British Columbia.

The Big Brother is a leading Australian citizen who undertakes to care for the moral welfare of the Little Brother until he has reached the age of twenty-one. Employment on the land is found for the Little Brother by the movement and it is up to the Big Brother to act as mediator and sponsor.

The Little Brother is a clean-living, physically fit, educated lad between fifteen and nineteen years of age, who has been selected by officers of the movement, and under their care is attached to Australia, where employment on the land at fifteen shillings a week awaits him.

The idea is to induce young men to work on the land in view of the fact that the movement is in the future in regard to this, the movement insists that if a Little Brother should wish to change his occupation to something other than farming, he will automatically resign from the movement.

During his stay in Victoria, Captain Thornton will be a guest at Government House, and in the course of his sojourn will give a public address regarding the Big Brother Movement. So far it has been impossible to get in touch with Captain Thornton, and nothing definite has been arranged in regard to when and where the address will be given.

BANQUET HELD BY BEATTY STORE STAFF

Washer Store Manager Receives Presentation on Transfer to Saskatoon

A banquet was held by the staff of the Beatty Washer Store, in the Dominion Hotel, in honor of Mr. George Hume, the manager, who has been moved to Saskatoon, and Mrs. Hume, and to mark the appointment of Mr. Arthur Bach to succeed Mr. Hume in Victoria. The event was attended by twenty-one persons, including the sixteen members of the local staff, and the wives or friends of the local executive heads.

A clock was presented by the Victoria salesmen and staff to Mr. and Mrs. Hume as a tribute to the warm regard in which the departing manager and his wife were held by all, and suitable speeches made by Mr. Hume, Mr. Perkins, the accountant, Mr. Bach, the incoming manager, and Mr. Potter of the head office staff.

Mr. Hume is taking charge of the new store being opened by the company in Vancouver, a city which is growing rapidly, and which offers an unusual opportunity for the growth of the washing machine business at the present time. Before coming to Victoria, Mr. Hume had charge of the Beatty sales staff in Saskatoon, when they were operating through a local dealer in that city. He is well acquainted there and understands Western conditions thoroughly.

Mr. Bach has been brought up in the washing machine business. His father introduced the 1900 Washer to Canada, twenty-seven years ago. This company having been brought out some time since by Beatty Bros., Limited. The elder Mr. Bach opened the first washer store in the British Empire at 357 Yonge Street, Toronto, in the building which is occupied by the Beatty Washer Store to this day. His son, Mr. Arthur Bach, has thus fallen heir to a good deal of washer experience and well remembers the day when his father took 1900 Gravity Washers (operated by hand) on the back of a buggy and toted them around from house to house, and farm to farm. Mr. Arthur Bach was educated in the collegiate in North Toronto, and completed two years of the regular course at the O. A. C. Guelph. He joined the staff of Beatty Bros., Limited, at the Coast four years ago, and was promoted shortly to take charge of the crew and salesmen doing business on Vancouver Island. He thus became intimately acquainted with the dealers of the Island and made many friends in Victoria and the Island towns. For the past two years he has had charge of the company's store in New Westminster.

While Beatty washers have been sold through the trade on the Island for nine years, it was only a year ago that their own store was opened, to sell direct from the factory to users and give expert factory service. The year's business has been very successful and over 500 electric washers have been sold in the period.

Beatty electric washers were purchased by more than 32,000 Canadian homes in the past twelve months. The company is now operating its own stores in twenty-two Canadian cities.

Bakers Hold Saanich United to Draw and Capture Hayward Cup

Score Is 2-2 in Fast Soccer Game at Beacon Hill—Hudson's Bay and Navy Net One Goal Each at Athletic Park

Jack Maxwell's clever and speedy squad of soccer players, known as Rennie & Taylor, made their first killing of the season when they held Saanich United to a 2-2 score at Beacon Hill yesterday, and by so doing won the Hayward Cup for a second successive season. One thing that can be said for this year's race for the trophy is that it has been much closer than last year.

Another draw was chalked up in yesterday's matches when the Hudson's Bay and the Navy played to a 1-1 score at the Royal Athletic Park. This marks the second week that the teams in the Wednesday Football League have participated in drawn games.

Yesterday's results made no difference in the standing of the teams, as each received one point.

The Standing

Team	P	W	L	D	F	A	Pts
Rennie & Taylor	5	3	2	0	7	10	6
Navy	5	1	3	1	7	10	3
Hudson's Bay	5	1	2	2	10	14	4
Saanich United	5	1	3	1	9	14	3

BATTLE TO DRAW

One goal in each half, the first by Fish of the Hudson's Bay, and the second by Tom Watt, of the Navy, were the only counters chalked up at the Royal Athletic Park, and as a result the teams had to leave the field with the points evenly divided.

The game started by White leading the University fifteen to the High School end, but Gaunt regained in a three-quarter run. Then Gardner, of the University School, broke through for the first try in the game, which Tisdall converted.

T. Cogswell made a good run, leading the University to the High School end, but L. Bapty regained the lost ground by a kick. The score at half-time was 5-0.

Gardner started the play in the second half by making a good run, shortly afterwards, Macmurchie, of the High School, had a clear field in front of him, but was stopped by Townsend, University fullback.

Then Pits and Hammond led the University up to the High School end. Getting the ball out of the scrum, Tisdall, of the School, dropped-kicked, thus bringing the score to 9-0. Immediately afterwards Tisdall led the play to the High School end, and passed out to Le Marquand, who scored an unconverted try. The final score was 12-0.

Sampson refereed and the teams were:

University School—White, Peard, T. Cornwall, H. Cornwall, Gardner, Fitz, Le Marquand, Brinkley, Tisdall, Reinkler, Mortimer, Hayward, George, Hammond, Townsend.

Victoria High School—Gaunt, H. Bapty, L. Bapty, Kinsman, Pettigrew, Colgate, Macmurchie, Hood, Chord, Pits, and Le Marquand.

Harold Lineham and Hagen Will Play Against Bon Stein and Farrell in Eighteen-Hole Exhibition, Starting at 1:30 o'Clock

The golfing classic of the year is expected today when Walter Hagen, British open champion, and Harold Lineham, first string Colwood amateur, oppose Johnny Farrell, United States titleholder, and Bon Stein, first ranking Canadian, in an eighteen-hole exhibition match at the Colwood Golf and Country Club, commencing at 1:30 o'clock.

This will be Victoria's second visit by noted golfers this year. Archie Compton and Aubrey Boomer, British experts, having played at the Uplands Club last Summer.

All that is wanted is good behavior on the part of the weather man, and a large crowd is assured. Interest in the exhibition has been running high and a large number of tickets have been taken up.

The news that the two American stars will not play together will, no doubt, meet with great approval by golf addicts. In a wire yesterday morning, J. B. Harlow, manager of the visiting stars, stated that any arrangements about partners, which the Colwood Club desired, would be O.K. with the British and American open champions. Hence, it was decided to pair "The Hag" and Lineham together against Farrell and Stein.

THE WORLD'S BEST

Hagen is the incomparable match player, and Farrell is the great stylist. His long, high drives are among the things that galleries go a long way to see.

Then there is another matter concerning the appearance of this pair on the same golf field that intrigues the public. They are, by strict test, the best dressed men that strut golf. Between them they have won the last five annual competitions for being the best dressed competitors in the national open championship.

Tomorrow the pair will appear at Glengara, course, Vancouver, and Saturday they will shoot ducks near Bellingham.

Sunday they appear at Fircrest Club, Tacoma, and Monday they go out for ducks again at Aberdeen, playing the Grays Harbor course on Tuesday and returning to Seattle for the wind-up of their present tour in this section on Wednesday.

The closing match will be at Sand Point Golf Club.

Robert E. Harlow, manager of the touring professionals, purposely cut their schedule one match—a second engagement at Vancouver—so as not to overwork them, for they go from the Sand Point match to Portland where they will devote three days to the Oregon open and follow that with a match against Dr. O. F. Willing and Frank Dolp next Sunday. Then they go to California for a brief campaign.

Basketball Lessons

How often should a team play a game? Answered By HOWARD B. ORTNER, Coach, Cornell University

Two games a week should be the most any team should play. A good way is to play one game a week with occasionally two games in the same week. Games were ought to be on successive nights, as this takes too much from the players physically, and robs the game of its pleasures.

TILDEN'S BAN NOW EMBRACES WHOLE WORLD

International Tennis Federation Follows Step of United States Member in Barring Ace

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—"Big Bill" Tilden now finds himself not only an exile from the courts of his own country, but also from the courts of a man without a country, so far as his amateur tennis ban is concerned.

By order of the International Tennis Federation, the ban, applied to the famous American star by the U.S.L.T.A., will be extended to its thirty-four other member nations, and thus embraces the entire tennis-playing world. This latest move in the Tilden case was revealed by the U.S.L.T.A. in the current issue of its official bulletin, which says the international body has sent to all of the associations affiliated with it a copy of the resolution disqualifying Tilden with an order that "conformity with our rulings, you will kindly extend this action also to your association."

An Tilden, six times American champion, is without play when in to swing his racket, the only chance for relief in sight is a possibility that the U.S.L.T.A. will decide at its February meeting to give the stormy petrel of the game another chance.

F. Wilson, Jr. 1 up, in a nip-and-tuck struggle. The finals in the second and third flights will be played later.

INTERLEAGUE SOCCER IS WON BY ENGLAND

Scottish Eleven Defeated Two Goals to One in Exciting Game—Hine and Dean Score for Winners

25,000 FANS SEE TEAMS IN ACTION

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 7. Canadian Press Cable)—The English League added to its victory over Ireland in interleague soccer matches today by defeating an eleven from the Scottish League by two to one before 25,000 people. The Englishmen led by two goals to nil at half-time. The game was played in fine weather. The Scottish League team showed a number of changes from the team which defeated Ireland last week, the most noteworthy being the substitution of McCrory, Celtic, for Battles, Hearts, at centre forward.

The teams:
England—Hacking, Oldham; Smart, Aston Villa; Blenkinsop, Wednesday; Edwards, Leeds United; Hart, Leeds United; Campbell, Blackburn; Hulme, Arsenal; Hine, Leicester; Dean, Everton; Bradford, Birmingham; Rigby, Blackburn.

Scottish League—J. Thompson, Celtic; Gray, Rangers; Blair, Clyde; McNab, Dundee; Mosey, Celtic; Bennie, Hearts; Archibald, Rangers; A. Thompson, Celtic; McCrory, Celtic; McAlpine, Queens Park; Morton, Rangers.

Scotland took the offensive and within a minute Smart was called on to clear. He did so and sent the Englishmen headed by Dean, on a play which should have resulted in a goal. Hulme, who took a centre near the goal, failed to steady himself before shooting and the ball went over the bar. A movement by the Scottish right wings broke down before Blenkinsop, and the Englishmen again took the ball to the other end. Thompson ran out to greet a centre by Rigby and saved a delicate situation. McAlpine kicked poorly when Morton provided an opening for him to beat Hacking.

HINE SCORES OFFER
After seventeen minutes of play from a pass by Dean, Hine found the net for England's first score. England continued the pressure and Dean scored. He dribbled the ball past two Scottish backs and dodged Thompson. The ball went into the fine offensive game until about half-time. Scotland went out after a score from the beginning of the second half but England's backs were steady. Getting a break England relieved their defence by a good forward movement which ended when Thompson turned Hart's powerful shot over the bar. The crowd cheered the Scottish goal. Scots again broke away and Archibald scored for Scotland. McCrory fell lame and Morton took his place at centre. England played strongly in the last minute and Hine got a six yards from the Scottish net, but missed the goal.

HAINSWORTH IN GOAL
George Hainsworth again will guard the nets and the "three musketeers" whose speed, scoring ability and stickhandling earned the title of "Flying Frenchmen" will make up the forward line. They are Howie Morenz, centre; Auril Joliat, right wing; and Art Gagne, left wing. Pete Lepine and Leonard Gaudreault, backbone of the Canadiens' reserve last year, again are available for duty. Mendu, bought from Providence, R.I., and Gerald Cullen, defence man from the Philadelphia team of the Canadian-American League, also are on the roster. It is expected that Larochelle and George Patterson, both right wing substitutes, will be sent to a minor league club.

"Glitz" Hart and Charley Langlois, sub players last year, will be missing from the Canadian bench this season. Hart has been sold to Providence, and Langlois has been returned to Pittsburgh.

The club again will be under the management of Cecil Hart.

BALMY BEACH WINS FROM CAMP BORDEN IN EASTERN RUGBY
BORDEN, Ont., Nov. 7.—Palmy Beach won the championship of group number two, Ontario Rugby Football Union, this afternoon when they defeated Camp Borden 14 to 5. The Beachers, present Dominion champions, will meet the group number one title winners Monday for the O.R.F.U. championship and the right to participate in the eliminations for the national title.

Blair and Taylor refereed. The teams were:
James Island—Smith (16), Ross (10), Jenkinson (14), Thompson, Rivers (2), and Rowbotham.
Navies—Freeman, Barker (10), Robinson (12), Massick (2), Orr, Stage, McCuaig and Barr.

BAYS COME THROUGH
J.B.A.A. noted out the Fouries quintette 15-12, in a hard-fought and stubbornly contested battle. The Bays were on the right end of a 9-4 score at the rest interval, but the bakers came back and tied the score early in the second half. When defeat was staring them in the face the Bays dropped in baskets when they were badly needed, and, despite the fighting finish of their opponents, finished on the long end of a 15-12 score.

Bob Whyte, veteran cager, turned in a heady performance for the bays and led the individual scorers with 8 points. Wright was high man for the Bays with three field baskets.

Blair and Taylor refereed. The teams were:
J.B.A.A.—Smith, McMichel (4), Wright (6), Thompson (2), Burnett, and Thom (3).

FOURIES—Rhodes, Behnson, Saxton (2), Land (2), Morish, Whyte (8), Macmurchie and Dewitt.

COLLEGE WINS
College ladies' five came through with a 21-14 win over Keating, but not until the players from the suburban district made the students exert themselves to the limit. A Code led the sharpshooters with 12 points.

Blair refereed and the teams were:
College—A. Code (12), J. Moody (2), S. Hammerley, J. Edwards (8), R. Fields, B. Penner, and S. Supe (2).

Keating—A. Styan (8), G. Hanson, N. Styan (6), W. Griffiths and H. Griffiths.

KEATING WINS ANOTHER
Keating men's Senior "C" cagers, followed up their sensational victory over the Hudson's Bay by trimming the Y.M.I. 30-9 in the opening game. G. Mitchell, of the winners, was high individual scorer with 10 points. Collins netted the only points for the Y.M.I.

Blair refereed and the teams were:
Keating—R. Kewey (8), Mitchell (10), L. Styan (2), Sutton (6), A. Styan (2), Tanner (2).

JAMES ISLAND CAGERS TAKE ANOTHER GAME

Snow Navy Under 42-24 Defeat at Centennial Gym—College and J.B.A.A. Win in City Basketball

KEATING TROUNCE Y.M.I. 30 TO 9

James Island, men's Senior "C" cagers, added another victory to their unbeaten string last night, when they snowed the Navy under a 42-24 defeat in the final game of the evening at the Centennial Gymnasium. The lars started out like a cruiser going to the aid of another vessel, shot their load early and then withered away badly; so badly, in fact, that in the second half the Islanders were all over them like a blanket.

Smith, Ross and Jenkinson, sharpshooters of the Islanders, were in rare form, and annexed all but two of their team's total. Smith set the pace by dropping in eight field baskets. Jenkinson annexed 14 points and Ross 10. Robinson led the saliers with 12 points, while Barker scored 10.

Blair and Taylor refereed. The teams were:
James Island—Smith (16), Ross (10), Jenkinson (14), Thompson, Rivers (2), and Rowbotham.
Navies—Freeman, Barker (10), Robinson (12), Massick (2), Orr, Stage, McCuaig and Barr.

BAYS COME THROUGH
J.B.A.A. noted out the Fouries quintette 15-12, in a hard-fought and stubbornly contested battle. The Bays were on the right end of a 9-4 score at the rest interval, but the bakers came back and tied the score early in the second half. When defeat was staring them in the face the Bays dropped in baskets when they were badly needed, and, despite the fighting finish of their opponents, finished on the long end of a 15-12 score.

Bob Whyte, veteran cager, turned in a heady performance for the bays and led the individual scorers with 8 points. Wright was high man for the Bays with three field baskets.

Blair and Taylor refereed. The teams were:
J.B.A.A.—Smith, McMichel (4), Wright (6), Thompson (2), Burnett, and Thom (3).

FOURIES—Rhodes, Behnson, Saxton (2), Land (2), Morish, Whyte (8), Macmurchie and Dewitt.

COLLEGE WINS
College ladies' five came through with a 21-14 win over Keating, but not until the players from the suburban district made the students exert themselves to the limit. A Code led the sharpshooters with 12 points.

Blair refereed and the teams were:
College—A. Code (12), J. Moody (2), S. Hammerley, J. Edwards (8), R. Fields, B. Penner, and S. Supe (2).

Keating—A. Styan (8), G. Hanson, N. Styan (6), W. Griffiths and H. Griffiths.

KEATING WINS ANOTHER
Keating men's Senior "C" cagers, followed up their sensational victory over the Hudson's Bay by trimming the Y.M.I. 30-9 in the opening game. G. Mitchell, of the winners, was high individual scorer with 10 points. Collins netted the only points for the Y.M.I.

Blair refereed and the teams were:
Keating—R. Kewey (8), Mitchell (10), L. Styan (2), Sutton (6), A. Styan (2), Tanner (2).

HEY, REF, BE REASONABLE. I'VE GOT A DATE TO TAKE MY GIRL TO A DANCE!
SOMEONE LIGHT A MATCH SO WE CAN GO INTO A HOP!
A DANCE A TIMER

BY AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

"The most peculiar incident that ever happened in my football experience, happened this year between Vanderbilt and Chattanooga," said P. W. Thomas, football coach of the University of Chattanooga, to me the other day.

"The timer was so excited and interested in the game personally," said Thomas, "that he did not notice his watch was out of commission and did not record the time. The game started at 3 o'clock and when it was stopped at 4, each team had taken time out three times, which made twelve minutes, and although we had been on the field for a full hour, we still had five minutes to play on the first quarter."

"We then played three more ten-minute quarters and finally finished at 5:45, the contest lasting two hours and forty-five minutes, just about a record for long distance football. Vanderbilt scored two touchdowns in the dark in the last five minutes of play, beating Chattanooga 20 to 0."

Speaking of football in the dark reminds me of a humorous incident that occurred a short time ago, when the University of Cincinnati played Hanover College a night football game. It was an ideal night, with a big full moon shining upon the field in conjunction with the immense electric lights. On the Cincinnati squad was a player nicknamed "Moon" Mullins.

"Look at the full moon coming out," remarked head Coach Babcock to his assistant coach, just before the game started. "Moon" Mullins jumped from the bench, took off his golf shirt, grabbed a helmet and rushed up to his coach for instructions.

When Babcock pointed to the real moon and explained the situation, he realized the joke and retired to his seat on the bench.

SEATTLE'S ICE PALACE OPENED

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—Seattle's ice arena made its initial bow before a packed house tonight. Standing room was at a premium. A programme of twenty-five events, including with a free-for-all hockey match between the Firemen and the Police, furnished two and one-half hours of thrilling entertainment. Percy Williams, of Vancouver, B.C., Olympic sprint champion, gave an exhibition of running on the ice. He was given a big hand.

A large number of skaters from the Comanagh Club, of Vancouver, contributed special numbers.

JUNIORS TO PLAY WEDNESDAY TEAM

Select Football Eleven Will Battle With Navy Squad on Thanksgiving Day

Football fans will have the opportunity of seeing a selected team from the Victoria Junior Football League stack up against the Navy, at present holding down second position in the Wednesday League. The game is scheduled to take place at the Royal Athletic Park on Thanksgiving Day at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The team the sailors will field in the morning will not include the players that are selected to play in the game in the afternoon, when the Wednesday League representatives will play the pick of the Saturday leaguers. However, the Navy will no doubt field a team that the Juniors will have to be at their best to defeat.

The Juniors will be represented by the following—Goal, G. Parquhar (Bapco); backs, Woolcock (City), England (Y.M.C.A.); halfbacks, McLean (Esquimalt), Stoper (Victoria City), Clarke (Victoria City); forwards, Armstrong (Oaklands), Cochran (Oaklands), Kettle (Bapco), Stewart (Esquimalt), Davis (Oaklands). The reserves will be: Preston and Gibson (Victoria City), Partington and Bourne (Y.M.C.A.), Gellings (Victoria City). George Preston will manage the team. Fred Oliver has been selected to referee.

S.O.E. Football

The Sons of England juvenile football line-up for Saturday's game is as follows: Todd, Buckley, Bradley, Hall, Haddy, Jackson, Lamb, Brink, Simpson, Price, Bridges, Ward, V. Haddy, Edwards and Taylor.

A new sporting arena, costing $8,000,000, is planned in New York City. The structure will seat 30,000 spectators.

BILL BORLAND WILL CAPTAIN LOCAL ICEMEN

Former Winnipeg Professional Named by Manager Joe Smith as Skipper of Squad

LUND'S ARRIVAL COMPLETES TEAM

Bill Borland, veteran Winnipeg pro, has been selected as captain of the local ice team by Manager Joe Smith. Borland has years of experience in hockey behind him, and knows every trick and rule of the pastime. The announcement met with great approval by the other boys on the Cubs' roster.

The new skipper of the local puckchaser has a great record in hockey, although he is still young. He was a former member of the famous Selkirk team, of which Jocky Anderson was a member. This team played against Victoria years ago, and old-time fans will remember the 17-4 lacing they handed to the local all-stars. He is a Prairie boy and was brought up on skates.

Seward "Speed" Lund's appearance yesterday morning brought the local squad up to strength. Lund checked in on the morning boat, and worked out yesterday afternoon. He lived up to his nickname in every respect. Lund was with the Brandon seniors, in the Midwestern League last year and was considered one of the most speedy prospects in that loop. He should be a fine addition to the left wing position.

Yesterday's practice saw most of the boys hitting a fast clip, and there was plenty of hockey shown. The regular forwards worked against the defence, and an hour's grind saw the boys lose several pounds of excess baggage. Another workout will be held this morning.

16th to Practice

The senior and intermediate teams will work out tonight at 8 o'clock at the Armories. All players are requested to turn out and get in shape for Saturday's game.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Stock market traders greeted the new national administration with an orgy of buying today, which taxed the capacity of the exchange almost to the limit and piled up the largest total of sales ever recorded in a rising market. Transactions aggregated 4,991,200 shares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—In view of the odds prevailing before election it could not be said that Wall Street was surprised by the overwhelming Republican victory in the presidential campaign. Instead of selling off on the good news, however, stocks staged one of the most aggressive demonstrations of the current bull market.

Public utilities displayed group buoyancy on active demand based on the belief that continuation of the Republican policies will aid further growth in earnings in this field. It was felt that Hoover's election would accelerate the trend toward public utilities consolidations.

Copper shares also moved ahead for a number of days under the influence of further indications of strength in the price situation.

There also appears to be a good chance that the Keweenaw management will undertake a split-up of the present shares, probably on the three for one basis. Anaconda reached its highest level since the war on buying by interests connected with the company, while Calumet & Arizona spurred vigorously on prospects of an increase in the present $6.00 dividend to an $8.00 basis.

Wright Aero staged a further sharp advance, reaching new high ground on the movement at 188. Recent buying has been of excellent character. The company's net income for the first nine months of 1928 was equal to $6.64 a share against $2.59 in the corresponding period last year, and 3.77 for the full year of 1927.

The daily average crude oil output for week ended November 3 totalled 2,504,196 barrels, of 9.182 from the previous week. Light oil production decreased 18,473 barrels. Standard Oil of California declared extra dividend of 50c and regular quarterly dividend of $2.25.

Missouri Pacific Transportation Company, subsidiary of Missouri Pacific Lines, filed application with the Arkansas Railway Commission for permission to operate bus lines within Arkansas.

International Nickel, Inc. reports a quarter ended September 30 consolidated net income $3,218,249 after depreciation, depletion, Federal taxes, equal after 6 per cent non-cumulative preferred to $1.66 on common, against $1,380,688, or 74c a share in 1927 quarter. Nine months' net was $8,304,771, or $4.27 a share against $2.26 on common in 1927.

The American Petroleum Institute estimates the daily United States crude oil output for week ended November 3 at 2,497,150 barrels, a decrease of 26,550 barrels from the previous week.

Marmion Motor Company declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1 on common, payable December 1, record November 15.

Steelmaking operations in Chicago district are close to 90 per cent of capacity, against 85 per cent last week and 73 per cent a year ago, says Iron Trade Review.

Hornblower & Weeks—We expect to see various leaders and groups come to the fore and give the market the necessary confidence to allow it to resume the advance. In each advance public attention has turned to special groups, and in this case we feel utilities, steel, oils and copper are before us. Industrials and mining likewise in such a position that favorable public attention may very well be expected.

Boches—We do not see the basis for a prolonged bear movement in the existing conditions, but we do believe that a period of readjustment is necessary before another major bull movement has its inception.

Whitney Letter

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Whitney, of the Wall Street Financial Bureau, says:

The most gratifying feature of yesterday's market, gratifying because it means a continuance of the advance, was the manner in which election profit taking was absorbed and the manner in which the market leaders were held within reasonable bounds and not permitted to develop violent markets which could have seriously impaired the technical position. Profit taking was undoubtedly exceptionally heavy coming from those who believed that the market has been discounting a Republican victory and that consequently, the good news being out, profits should be clinched. I do not believe that this is the case, but expect the market to continue to advance, because the advance is based, not on politics, but on an exceptionally good present, and the assurance of an even better future, both in business and finance. Credit accommodation is now available at a rate which is not only low, but movement promising to bring considerably more metal to the country than was originally estimated, which should mean that both time and call money will loan for the balance of the year at lower rates than were expected but a few weeks ago. Except where advances have been exceptionally radical, I continue to recommend to either hold or buy stocks, not to sell them, anticipating that even better prices than their record prices which now face us will be recorded in the near future.

Paramount Car Manufacturing on the New York Curb is recommended for purchase while it is available in the middle and high thirties. For a number of reasons. First, because the company is in exceptional financial condition with current assets some twelve times current liabilities; second, because the forthcoming earnings statements are currently running at a rate of slightly better than six dollars a share on the stock; third, because the stock is soon to be established on a $2.40 dividend basis to return a yield of around 7 per cent, and finally, because, now that the election is over, there is an exceptionally favorable climate of opinion to be put into effect. If you have followed the buying recommendations in Timken Roller Bearings and Woolworth, you have a new high record in which to take profits in Timken, and a new high for half or more in Woolworth. I believe you can likewise take half profits in Anaconda, but would continue to buy American Smelting under 275 and Chile Copper under 65. I likewise recommend the purchase of Greene Canaries, which is expected to develop into the sensational performer of the copper group.

Superior Oil is established at 12 as predicted, will cross 12 and will inaugurate its next phase of advance which has its objective 15. Use some of the Woolworth profits to buy Associated Dry Goods below 53. In the rails continue to concentrate on Canadian Pacific and New York Central. In the utilities, on United Gas Improvement and International Telegraph & Telephone. In the copper group, on three issues, Vanadium, Colorado Fuel, and Big Steel; among the specialties, Loews, Fidelity Phoenix Insurance and Insurance Company of North America, and Hiram Walker.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, Nov. 7.—Wheat opened about unchanged this morning, but liquidation of long wheat and the resumption of short sales appeared to be the order of the day, and prices were carried down. About 1.5 under last night's close, getting into the daily bids, the buying against which the market had declined, but the market was unable to hold steady around bottom levels. Chicago was even weaker than Winnipeg, declining over two cents.

Trade was largely local, but there was a little back spreading between here and Chicago, which was selling Winnipeg wheat futures against purchases at Chicago. Following the fairly large export business of yesterday, when fully one million bushels each of wheat and barley were sold, there was a little out of this market, there was a little doing today. However, holders were not pressing cash wheat, and spreads were practically unchanged all day, with November wheat 1c better. Wheat deliveries into the clearing house today were 456,000 bushels. Weather in the Argentine reported as more settled.

Coarse Grains—These markets were generally quiet, and outside of a little domestic business in oats and barley, there was very little doing. Markets were slightly easier in sympathy with the weakness in wheat, but there was not much selling pressure.

Flax—Steady market, closing about unchanged. Trade was very light and nothing of feature going on.

"TOUGH" COMPLETES PUZZLING JOURNEY

Building Masoot of Aleutian Islands Expedition Underwent Strange Adventures

NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 7.—There is one member of the Stoll-McCracken expedition recently returned from the Arctic regions where in the Aleutian Islands, they unearthed four mummies of an ancient Mongolian race, who are unidentifiable to the expedition. The expedition, which was led by Stoll, was a joint venture of the U.S. Navy and the U.S. Army.

Tough has always had a taste for the soft things of life. The glow of the evening hearth fire, the softness of sofa cushions, the undisturbed tranquility of an apartment dwelling in New York City—these were the very stuff of his existence during three years as his master's dog, Harold McCracken, his owner, and leader of the lately returned party of scientists and adventurers, has a fondness for animals.

In April last—April 16 to be precise—the pleasant routine of an established life was interrupted. For no apparent reason Tough found himself with a chain on his collar and a muzzle on his mouth, staring at the blank walls of a baggage car. He was bound for Montreal, to board the Morrisey for the Prince Rupert and the Aleutian Islands. These details came to him gradually.

At the Canadian border he was required to produce a pedigree to prove his right to pass through the Dominion. He was also put under $500 bond to travel to Prince Rupert to board the Morrisey for the Prince Rupert and the Aleutian Islands. These details came to him gradually.

The lecturer on health had finished his discourse and invited his audience to ask any questions they chose concerning points that might seem to need clearing up, when a third looking man inquired: "Professor, what do you do when you can't sleep at night?" "I usually stay awake, although, of course, everybody should feel at liberty to do otherwise. Are there any other questions?" Manager-"But, look here, these aren't testimonials!" Office Boy (applying for post)-"No, sir; but I thought they would help. They're copies of the death certificates of my four grand-parents."

Giant Liners to Ply Atlantic With Speed Hitherto Unattained

With fast new liners planned by the Cunard Line and the French Line for transatlantic service, the Bremen and Europa, now being completed at Bremen and Hamburg for the North German Lloyd, will not be without competition for the record crossing from America to Europe.

At the present time the Cunarder Mauretania holds the blue ribbon of the Atlantic, having crossed from New York to Plymouth in four days, twenty-three hours and ten minutes, and the round trip from Southampton to New York and New York to Plymouth in twelve days and fifteen hours.

Built by Swan, Hunter and Wigham Richardson, at Newcastle, in 1907, the crack liner is 790 feet long, eighty-eight feet in beam and has a depth of 37.1 feet. She is powered by four steam turbines developing 70,000 horsepower, distributed to four screws, giving her a top speed of almost twenty-eight knots. The liner is of 30,704 registered tons.

According to word received by Mr. C. A. Whitehead, Vancouver manager for the Cunard Line, the company plans a thirty-knot, 60,000-ton liner for North Atlantic service, with a combination turbo-electric drive. With this speed the Cunard Line will be able to retain the record with ease.

INSURANCE BIG QUESTION

The gigantic vessel will cost about $29,160,000 to construct, and the problem of insuring her has raised some interesting points.

It is understood that the capacity of the world insurance market is an insured value of about $1,600,000, giving a total capacity of about $2,000,000 hull insurance with total interests on any one vessel. Even assuming that this sum can be exceeded by exploiting every possible avenue, there remains a very large unsecured balance if the estimated cost is anything like accurate, even taking into account the proportion of the risk voluntarily run by the owners and the amount covered in the mutual associations or "clubs." There is much speculation as to how the unsecured balance may be covered.

A recent announcement of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, the French Line, is to the effect that it will place a huge liner in the Atlantic service in 1930.

The craft will be larger than the Ile de France and with even more palatial accommodation. It is understood that she will be motor driven.

Probably not more than twenty persons outside the official ranks of the French Line are in the secret. The workmen at the famous docks at Penhoet, near St. Nazaire, where the first American troops disembarked in France, feel by instinct that there is something big being studied, but even the gossip of the little coast town has not yet begun to describe the magnitude of the new venture.
